GOLDWATER WINS IN CALIFORNIA

SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater swept to a stunning California victory and a commanding position today in the Republican presidential race.

By a narrow margin, the Arizona senator captured a rich bloc of 86 delegates from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's showpiece primary Tuesday.

Rockefeller captured most of the state's 58 counties, but a decisive surge for Goldwater in late Southern California returns, chiefly from Los Angeles, nailed down the bitter contest for the Westerner.

Results from 29,800 of 32,861 precincts showed: Goldwater, 969,957; Rockefeller, 938,386.

The victory in the last presidential primary before the July 13 GOP National Convention brought Goldwater within striking distance of the 665 votes he'll need for the nomination.

He called it a "giant step" toward his quest to lead the Republican ticket in the November election.

Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, trounced State Controller Alan Cranston for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat held by ailing Democratic Sen. Clair Engle.

The Salinger victory dealt a setback to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other party elements who supported Cranston. It showed, too, the vote-pulling power of the Kennedy image, used heavily by the press secretary to the late president.

The 39-year-old former San Francisco newspaper reporter, who couldn't even vote for himself because he's registered in Virginia, will face the Republican nominee, onetime actor George Murphy.

Brown, however, won another intraparty squabble. His 154-slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention defeated a rival slate headed by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles.

Goldwater's presidential primary sweep came only after a cliffhanging count of votes that had Rockefeller ahead for a while.

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller said the California results pushed Goldwater very close to the 655 convention votes needed for the nomination.

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who will serve as convention keynote speaker and temporary chairman, said the senator appeared to have clinched the nomination.

Goldwater flew to Washington after watching early results flow into his Los Angeles headquarters. He claimed victory at 8 p.m. Tuesday on the basis of electronic computations.

The final outcome wasn't definite, however, until Los Angeles, with 40 per cent of the state's vote, reported the bulk of its ballots — and Goldwater maintained his commanding lead there.

In the Republican presidential race, Rockefeller was carrying most of the state's 58 counties. But Goldwater offset it with solid majorities in Los Angeles and Orange counties.

The pollsters, to a man, had given the edge to Rockefeller. But all indicated the outcome would hinge on the sizable undecided vote they detected.

Goldwater called his showing a "victory for the mainstream of Republican thinking." He thus tossed back Rockefeller's assertion that his views represented the GOP mainstream.

NBC's Electronic Vote Analysis center noted that Rockefeller ran strong in the San Francisco Bay area, farm and mountain areas, and that Goldwater did not come up to expectations in San Diego County.

The EVA center report spotted a trend to Rockefeller among minority groups. First returns from San Francisco's Chinatown, for instance, favored the governor 5 to 1. A similar swing was evident among Italian-Americans.

The NBC analysis emphasized Goldwater's strength in the state's high population centers. Rockefeller was favored in the north, and that's the way the vote went. But 60 per cent of the population lives in the south.

Little Modoc County, a bellwether in 25 state elections, was giving Goldwater a plurality of better than 54 per cent. The northeastern county has only 1,491 registered voters.

CBS, shortly after the polls closed, projected a Goldwater sweep on votes from 42 "model" precincts. With 22 per cent of the vote in, ABC's projection also tabbed him as the winner.

Even so, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Rockefeller's state campaign chairman, said it was still a cliffhanger, and 'I think we'll wait a little longer" before any conceding.

Former Sen. William F. Knowland, who headed Goldwater's forces, called on Republicans to unify and said he expected support from most of Rockefeller's followers.

New Tactics Mark Rights Bill Debate

Senate Foes Ready For Vote; Backers Take Up Speaking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both sides shifted tactics today in the Senate's civil rights debate.

Southerners stood by, saying they were ready to vote on some amendments, while the measure's backers took up the speaking chores.

Dixie senators called this a "counter-filibuster." But Senate leaders said the change of heart came too late, that all of their plans now were centered on the cloture vote set for next Tuesday.

If the bill's supporters muster the necessary two-thirds vote for cloture, all further debate will be limited tightly and leaders are confident the bill then can be passed by the third week in June.

"I have confidence in the action that the Senate will take," President Johnson told a news conference Tuesday. "I believe it will pass a good bill."

The Southerners, who have prevented voting on the bill except on two of the 69 days of debate so far, decided on their change of strategy at a caucus Tuesday.

But when their leader, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced this on the floor, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he saw no possibility of arranging votes this week now.

Mansfield said that the bill's sponsors would need considerable time to explain the revised version which Senate leaders expect to win the votes needed for cloture.

Rusk, McNamara To Report

Johnson Awaits Plans For Asia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned today from a Honolulu conference with "a number of recommendations" for President Johnson on new action to strengthen Southeast Asia against Communist pressures.

Landing at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk told newsmen "We brought back a number of recommendations, as we usually do from these meetings."

He said "the commitment of the American nation, its people and its government," to protect Southeast Asia against Red aggression "are well-known."

Then he added: "The problem is to make sure the other side fully understands that we mean what we say."

Rusk and McNamara were scheduled to see Johnson late in the day after the President's return from a speaking trip to New England.

McNamara was asked whether there are any plans for expanding the Vietnamese war into North Viet Nam. He declared that "no plans have been recommended to the President for approval and none has been approved."

This stopped short of denying that plans have been made by military experts, but it was in line with Johnson's statement Tuesday that he was not personally aware of any plans.

Aides traveling with Rusk and McNamara said much of the planning in the two-day Honolulu strategy conference, which ended Tuesday night, was concerned with ways of strengthening the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam and supporting more effectively the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Officials returning with the two Cabinet officers declined to say exactly what steps would be proposed to Johnson for achieving the purpose Rusk stated of making Communist North Viet Nam, Red China and the Soviet Union aware of U.S. determination not to let Southeast Asia fall to Red conquest.

McNamara flew from Washington to Hawaii last Sunday.

Rusk went there from India where he served last week as President Johnson's special representative at funeral services for Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He said his time in India had been a "sad but deeply moving experience." He expressed admiration for the manner in which the new Indian leadership had acted to fill the gap created by Nehru's death.

Committee Dispute Brews

'Rump' Democrat Group Elects In Hancock Fight

Thirteen members of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, four exercising proxies, elected Weirton Atty. Edward A. Zagula as chairman at a meeting Tuesday night in the janitor's quarters in the downstairs of the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The group convened after a meeting of the 20-member executive committee broke up in a stormy session in the downstairs room of the Courthouse that serves as headquarters of County Court.

Called to order at 8 by Dick Wright of Chester, chairman for four years, the meeting of the full 20 members lasted only 10 minutes, and was closed to the public.

It ended in a clamor when Wright asked for each committee members to present "credentials." Atty. Frank A. Pietranton and Atty. Callie Tsapis, named parliamentarians by Wright, advised that this was the correct procedure.

However, not one of the 20 committee members brought along any election certificates. Wright then recessed the meeting until June 11.

Walter Batalo of Weirton, who was exercising a proxy, said election certificates were not required in 1960 when the executive committee on which he served elected Wright as chairman.

Weedo Magnone of Weirton, a new committee member, criticized the decision of Wright, pointing out he received a registered letter from the chairman notifying him of the meeting, and felt that the letter constituted sufficient credentials.

The meeting ended with a pro-Zagula faction headed by Walter Nogay and Batalo charging Wright with "stalling for time

Bolt Damages District Home

Broadview Circle TV Antenna Struck

A bolt of lightning struck a television antenna at a Broadview Circle area home at 9:15 this morning, causing about $600 damage to the dwelling when it ricocheted through a large window and scorched the walls inside.

It happened during a brief, hard rain in the city area and the thunder clap was heard over a wide area.

Firemen from three outlying departments were called to the home of Zangwill Kamil at Broadview Circle and Gilson Ave., after the bolt struck.

There was no fire, but the walls of two rooms were scorched. The antenna was twisted, and the lightning smashed through a large picture window when it ricocheted inside.

Glenmoor and Liverpool Town East volunteer firemen responded with two trucks each, and Calcutta department sent one truck. Fire Chief Kenneth Mills of Glenmoor estimated damage at $600. Firemen said no one was hurt.

Overtime Pay Voted Police At Wellsville

Councilmen Order Legislation To Give Others Same Rate

Legislation authorizing overtime pay at the rate of $2.50 per hour for the police department was adopted by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Council also ordered legislation establishing the same rate for overtime for members of the fire department and filtration plant employes. To be included in the legislation is a clause cutting the working week of firemen and filtration employes from 48 hours to 42.

The overtime pay for all is to be in effect the remainder of the year. The legislation stipulates that funds are to come from money already appropriated over and above regular police salaries.

The firemen in their request said the work week could be reduced without an additional cost to the city. The firemen said they will work three five - day weeks and one six-day week to fill out the schedule.

At the filtration plant it will be necessary to employe a three-day part-time worker for an additional two and one - eighth days to round out the schedule.

Republicans Win 4 Council Posts

Rolling up a 5-1 margin over his Democratic opponent, Chester Mayor Harry Abrams won a second term in heading a Republican sweep of municipal offices in the City's biennial election Tuesday, according to complete but unofficial returns.

Mayor Abrams, 69, won decisively over newcomer Donald Flowers, 38, who was unopposed in the primary, and gained a Republican dominated Council for his next two years as the city's executive head.

There were several close races for Council, with one incumbent winning by only 21 votes, and a new member gaining a 29-vote victory.

Unopposed for a fifth straight term as city clerk, Roy Cashdollar, Republican, drew the most votes of any of the 12 candidates on the ballot—1,083. A total of 1,329 votes were cast.

The Republicans swept four of the five Council posts, with Democrat Charles Kology, incumbent, unopposed in the First Ward.

In the new biennium starting July 7, the incumbent mayor will work with a Council dominated 4-1 by Republicans. The GOP picked up an additional seat from Mayor Abrams' first term, when its majority was only 3-2.

The mayor's post pays $300 annually. The vote was:

Abrams	1,078
Flowers	215

Kology drew 108 votes in his unopposed bid for another two years as First Ward Councilman.

In the Second Ward, Richard Johnston, Republican, a school teacher in East Liverpool, won over Brooks Ash, Democrat, by 29 votes. The tally was:

Johnston	175
Ash	146

The third Ward race between Republican incumbent Donald Hissam, seeking a third straight term, and Frank Decapio, Democrat, was even closer. The tally gave Hissam the victory by 29 votes.

Hissam	139
Decapio	118

Walter McSwegin, Republican, gained the Fourth Ward Council seat by 82 votes over George Davidson, Democrat. The vote:

McSwegin	210

Victory Seen By Salinger In Senate Bid

Leading Cranston In Bitter Democrat California Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger, buoyed by telephoned best wishes from President Johnson and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, cautiously claimed victory early today in the bitter Democratic senatorial battle.

Arriving in San Francisco from Los Angeles after midnight, the former White House press secretary told a crowd of 700 admirers at a Nob Hill hotel:

"Let me say that it appears as if we have won the election. Let me say it appears, because election returns still are coming in throughout the state."

He reported that President Johnson and Mrs. Kennedy had called him in Los Angeles with their good wishes for his apparent victory over State Controller Alan Cranston.

Associated Press returns from 24,183 of 32,861 precincts gave Salinger 611,772, Cranston 563,558.

A short while before, Gov. Edmund G. Brown—who endorsed Cranston — commented, "The people now appear to have told us they prefer Salinger."

Cranston remarked, although not conceding, "If Salinger is the winner, as it appears, I will be supporting him."

Police To Get Overtime Pay

suggested all city employes be considered "down the line" rather than one group at a time.

He said this would be the only fair way of doing it. Council members said they are handling the requests as they were received and pointed out the overtime pay to be in effect only until the end of the year.

It was pointed out no additional funds are being appropriated and once the money is gone, no further overtime will be paid.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare asked where the money is to come from to pay for someone to make up the extra hours?

In other business, Council ordered legislation authorizing the director to advertise for bids on a piece of city - owned land along Little Yellow Creek at the upper end of town.

The land is to be leased to the highest bidder at not less than $300 a year, payable annually in advance. The lease will be for five years with an option for five more.

The city is to be allowed continual inspection of any installation, as well as the Army Corps of Engineers. The land is located along side the floodwall.

Council delayed acting on a report from the claims committee in regards to the city paying the fees of the attorneys used by the administration in the Civil Service Commission appeal hearing of Chief John Hephner. It was recommended Council refuse to pay the bill and return it to Mayor Daugherty.

Mayor Daugherty retained Atty. James Allison and Atty. Jack Cohen of East Palestine to present the case. The commission upheld Hephner and reinstated him.

Solicitor William Bush was hospitalized at the time, thus the mayor retained the two East Palestine attorneys.

In presenting the report, Councilman Walter Henthorne said that the mayor had not asked Council for assistance. He also pointed out state law requires that anyone named to assist the solicitor is subject to approval of Council.

Bush informed Council at another meeting that it does not have to pay the fee legally, but does have a "moral obligation."

Henthorne said that if this is considered, then Council also should pay the fees of counsel for Chief Hephner.

Just after the meeting opened, members of the audience were given time to speak. Ed Pugh of Riverside Ave. polled Council in regards as to whether or not they feel a moral obligation to pay the fee.

All answered yes with the exception of Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi, who refused to answer, and Henthorne, who said "no."

Councilman Paul Todd said it should be given further study and the report was taken under consideration.

Mrs. Helen Welch of Main St. read a letter to Council from the Wellsville Women's Civic Club, urging action on extending the city limits to provide housing areas on the hills and give the lowlands to diversified industries, secure federal or state funds to extend water and sewers to the areas, enact an income tax, work toward the general betterment of the community and obtain additional industry. She also proposed that it set up building and zoning codes and urge state leaders to include this end of Columbiana County in the Appalachia rehabilitation program.

In the mimeographed letter, carrying the name of Mrs. Jean Broderick, president, and Mrs. Welch as special committee chairman, the club said Council has been in office five months and "has been extremely busy either doing nothing or wasting time with matters not in their jurisdiction."

Mrs. Welch then spoke to Council as an individual. She hit at the way they "harrass the administration." She also asked who urged Council to make an issue of the appointment of Richard Lloyd to the Civil Service Commission. Lloyd has claimed he is a Republican, Council claims he is not and has directed the solicitor to file a suit in Common Pleas Court against Lloyd's appointment.

She said the mayor had never given any orders to the commission before or during the appeal hearing, as some had claimed.

She also hit at editorial comments by WOHI and the Wellsville Press.

She said several persons had signed a statement affirming their faith in the mayor.

She then hit at remarks made by Henthorne and Lombardozzi.

They answered her later, with heated retorts at time.

Todd differed with Mrs. Welch, declaring Council has acted on many different projects.

Mrs. Bette Jackson asked about the proposed relocation of Route 7. Todd said it had been checked.

The mayor was authorized to go to Columbus and New Philadelphia to confer with state highway officials on the relocation.

Complaints were received from residents of 9th St. on one-side parking that went into effect Tuesday. Council ordered at its last meeting that no parking be permitted on the west side of 9th from Main St. to Riverside Ave. and on the east side from Broadway to Wood St.

Other complaints were registered on speeding and street conditions.

Legislation was ordered authorizing the director to seek bids on a new packer truck for the refuse department.

Resolutions were adopted accepting $300 from the estate of Mable Emory and $400 from the estate of Helen R. Dickey for the perpetual care of lots at Springhill Cemetery. The money will go into the cemetery endowment fund.

Henthorne suggested many of the city problems be handled through a planning commission or an advisory board.

Council authorized payment of $25 to John Stout of Riverside Ave. He claimed he had to dig up a water line on order of the city and found the leak was on the city line.

Council granted the Sterling China Co. permission to cut 18 feet of curbing at 1122 Commerce St. for an entrance for an employes' parking lot.

The street committee set a meeting for Thursday at 2 p. m. with Charles Shafer of the Shafer Trucking Co. to air complaints received on operation of his truck terminal. Residents complained of the noise and fumes from the vehicles at the last meeting.

Three members of the present Council will retire July 7. They are Don Chaney, Fifth Ward, Democrat, who made an unsuccessful bid for his party's nomination as Hancock County sheriff May 12; Carl Graham, Second Ward Republican, and Wayne Hutton, Fourth Ward Republican who lost to Mayor Abrams in the April 7 primary.

Council is to meet tonight at 7:30 to make the official canvass, and conduct other business.

The total vote was less than the 1,561 of the 1962 election, a check of the records by Cashdollar disclosed.

The breakdown on the voting by wards was:

First Ward: Abrams 122, Flowers 26, Cashdollar 120, Kology 108.

Second Ward: Abrams 269, Flowers 57, Cashdollar 272, Johnston 175 and Ash 146.

Third Ward: Abrams 212, Flowers 43, Cashdollar 214, Hissam 139, and Decapio 118.

Fourth Ward: Abrams 284, Flowers 46, Cashdollar 278, McSwegin 210 and Davidson 128.

County Heads Favored In Salary Trial

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury late Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict for Columbiana County commissioners in Mrs. Jane Case's suit to collect salary after she was dismissed as a phone operator at the Courthouse when the administration changed over two years ago.

The commissioners were granted the retrial by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and it began Monday morning.

June 27, 1963, Mrs. Case, of Columbiana, was awarded $3,984.50 for wagse by a petit jury for the 18 months she didn't work after dismissal. Commissioners filed for a new trial.

On Aug. 5, Judge Buzzare said, in his opinion evidence showed she didn't "persevere in her attempts to get work and by her own admission just stayed at home and did nothing towards finding a job after she was dismissed."

Judge Buzzard then said he would grant commissioners a new trial unless Mrs. Case would accept a reduction to $512.

She failed to file a reply and the new trial was granted commissioners.

The jury consisted of Mildred Weston, Anah Patton, Helen Densmore, Dorothy H. Prager and Dorothy Shattenberg, East Liverpool; Bruce W. Duncan, George Hanson, Carl W. Zimmerman and Helen B. Kyle, Salem; Nina Melhorn, Salineville; Arthur Conrad, Columbiana, and Franklyn H. Brooks, Leetonia. John R. Stecker of Washingtonville, was alternate.

Service Station Thief Gets $117 In Register

Clarence P. Bailey, operator of Bill's Amoco Service Station, 1923 Harvey Ave., Klondyke, told police a sneak thief removed $117 in currency from the cash register in the station sometime between noon and 3:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Bailey told officers the key was lying alongside the register and the thief apparently removed the money while the proprietor was in another part of the station working on an auto.

Hancock GOP Sets Reorganizing Session

The Hancock County Republican Executive Committee will meet tonight at 8 in the Courthouse in New Cumberland to reorganize, James M. Ravoira of Weirton, chairman, announced.

Ravoira, who lost in a bid for re-election to the executive committee in the May 12 primary, is again seeking the chairman's post. He has served since 1956.

Graham declined to give permission, advising the room had been reserved by Wright for the night. Zagula exclaimed that since Wright "has a franchise on the room until midnight, why not allow the meeting to be held in the janitor's room?"

Permission was given, and the 13 members of the committee went into session, leaving the door open, with two sheriff's deputies and two newspaper reporters inside.

The 13 executive committee members who met to elect Zagula as new chairman were Paul R. Cowey of Grant District; Gerald Rainey and Jack Evans of Clay, with Evans exercising a proxy for Mrs. Margaret Baxter; Walter W. Nogay and Walter Batalo of Weirton, with Batalo exercising a proxy for Mrs. Pauline Kondik.

Mrs. Mary Green, Mrs. Laurine Palma, who exercised a proxy for Mrs. Jean Gryskevich, William Peklinsky, proxy for John J. Balog; Mrs. Olive Pearson, Anthony DiBart, Mrs. Ben Will, Weedo Magnone and Mrs. Marie Orwasky, all representing ward precincts in Weirton.

The seven who did not sit in on the session in the janitor's quarters were Donna M. Wright, of Chester, and Joe Zinaich, Mustafa Mallas, Mrs. Evelyn Beaver, Joe Burrachio, Mrs. Helen Quatro, and John E. Plesich, all of Weirton.

The group of 13 elected Atty. Zagula as chairman, Nogay as vice chairman, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Baxter as associate chairmen, Mrs. Will, secretary, and Magnone, treasurer.

In addition, they named a committee of DiBart, Magnone and Mrs. Orwasky to arrange for projects "to improve the new Democratic image for Hancock County."

Atty. Zagula a former Weirton Council member, has an electrical engineering degree from Georgia Tech and a law degree from West Virginia University.

He said although "there will be repercussions, the committee will support the Democratic ticket from top to bottom."

"The new committee may be challenged, but here is the alignment: 13 men and women, a clear majority," he said. "I'm sure the others will join us in a united force," he declared.

The group also voted unanimously to repudiate the action of the old committee of Friday barring Paul R. Cowey of Chester from serving on the new committee, even though he was elected in the May 12 primary.

Wright dismissed Cowey on Friday, naming Gary Durham of Newell as his successor, touching off a court battle. But Cowey appealed Wright's action to the state committee.

Roy Hart of Chester came to the meeting to protest the action of the old commitete in naming Durham, pointing out he ran second in the three-way race for Grant District committee member in the primary, with Durham third. Hart said, "Now that the new committee has named Cowey, I am for him 100 per cent."

In Nehru's Footsteps

Lal Bahadur Shastri, India's prime minister succeeding Jawaharial Nehru, promises he will walk in Nehru's footsteps, which is a good enough beginning for a man whose physical size only suggests the disparity between him and the towering figure he follows.

But no one is being tempted to underrate the possibilities inherent in the new Prime Minister Shastri's situation at this uncertain moment in the new Republic's development.

He must be a socialist, because that is what his party and its leadership stand for.

He must be a neutralist, because India must carry water on both shoulders until it is strong enough to defend itself in a showdown.

He must be a mystic because that is the temperament of the teeming Indian population and the tradition of its leadership.

He must be opposed to poverty because poverty is the curse of the uncontrolled population increase of ignorant people who can't even break out of primitivism long enough to control their sacred cattle.

Prime Minister Shastri has come to responsibility at the head of the world's second largest nation in an hour of special opportunity. The revolution that brought independence to India now is history. The evolution of the new republic is well under way.

The tradition of the sainted Mahatma Gandhi and the revered Pandit Nehru cannot be disregarded. But Prime Minister Shastri, if he is worthy of the responsibility that has been placed on him, will not try to govern India by tradition. He will govern by intelligence.

He will be his own man in his own way in his own time, remembering that Nehru's footsteps, like those of all the great men who preceded him, led to the funeral pyre and then were no more.

Farm Pond Precaution

The hazard posed by artificial lakes and ponds for swimmers has been emphasized by the American Red Cross which has urged a special safeguard be provided by the owners.

In Columbiana County alone there are over 182 farm ponds, and across the nation there are some 17,000 new artificial lakes and ponds with 1,000 more being built annually.

The Red Cross has recommended each owner provide a fence post with a small inflated inner tube, a 12-foot pole and 40 feet of rope located adjacent to the pond for saving those in danger of drowning.

There's no substitute for learning to swim well, but these safety devices can help ward off tragedy.

Residents along the Ohio River know well the threat of water. But it is still hard to believe an average 120 Americans will lose their lives each week this year by drowning.

Down From Happier Geese

Mortimer Caplin, soon to retire as U.S. internal revenue commissioner, says he hasn't spoken out before but is convinced income tax rates should be lower, with fewer deductions.

A precise figure is uncertain, but the conclusion is foregone that more revenue would be collected at a small fraction of the present rates if everybody paid the same rate. Commissioner Caplin, however, is not suggesting abandonment of the sliding scale of rates—only a smaller tax percentage in each bracket.

This is what is underway right now—a rate reduction accompanied by a general tightening up of allowable deductions. If all goes well, the federal government will end up with more revenue and the taxpaying geese will end up with fewer complaints about the removal of their down.

This is the ultimate trick in taxation—to pluck the geese with a minimum of squawking and wing-flapping. Commissioner Caplin has been staging a small demonstration of what is possible.

If Congress ever got around to true tax reform, it would go the whole way and eliminate the incentive to avoid excessive taxation by resort to gimmicks. It would eliminate all deductions.

If everybody had to pay the same—if there were no gimmicks—individual and corporation income taxes would produce nothing but revenue—no headaches, no inequities, no secret holds to be applied to a competitor with government connivance.

Predictable Death

It is a ghastly fact that more people are killed and maimed in auto traffic all the time as the population and auto registrations grow.

The fatality toll for a holiday weekend is as predictable as the death rate from tuberculosis, lung cancer, kidney disease and coronary failure. National Safety Council predicted a Memorial weekend toll of between 410 and 490 deaths. The actual toll was approximately 415.

This was well under the maximum that could have been projected from the previous record high of 1958, when 371 lost their lives during a three-day Memorial weekend. In 1958, the national auto registration was only 68½ million. Today, it is more than 82 million.

With no allowance for longer distances traveled on today's better highways, a projection of the 1958 accident rate indicated a 1964 death toll of 444.

All things considered, auto traffic keeps getting safer. Better highways, better cars and years of safety education are having a visible effect on safety. Streets and highways never can be made foolproof.

But if progress weren't being made, a three-day weekend in summer might be expected to produce more than 1,000 fatalities.

Just The Facts

When the Warren Commission report on the Kennedy assassination is issued, perhaps by the end of this month, a fresh wave of international speculation will form. The New York Times has learned through interviews in European capitals that any report which tries to wrap up the assassination with a pat explanation will be rejected out of hand in Europe.

The same skepticism The Times has found abroad exists here, too. There is sound reason for its existence.

Lee Oswald's murder at the hands of Jack Ruby destroyed the only possible source of dependable information about the accused man's actions last Nov. 22. Motives, incentives and explanations for the crime he has been accused of all have to be filled in with conjectural evidence.

Self-Reliance

By Truman Twill

Everybody who worries about America wonders what would happen if the bad people ever got ahead of the police and held their lead.

They have been wondering more than usual lately, because of a series of terror incidents in the nation's largest city. Each new incident proved the same thing.

The innocent people involved in the incidents could find no self-reliance in their own group. When pitted against terrorists, they were helpless.

They said they did not want to get "involved." What they meant was that they did not know how to get "involved." They had lost the will and the capacity to look out for themselves.

They were solely dependent on policemen who weren't there and in some cases couldn't have been reached. They were helpless sheep in a slaughter pen. They had no defense. They were as pitiable as a goat tethered at the base of a tree in a jungle, waiting for a tiger to tear it apart.

MEANWHILE, in New York City, authorities are trying to recruit and train more policemen. As terror erupts here and then there, existing policemen rush to the scene. When they get there it's too late.

They examine the bodies of the victims and take down the accounts of the survivors. They interview bystanders and shake their heads in disbelief that these ghastly things keep happening.

But what is to keep them from happening if the only protection people have is a police force that can't be everywhere at the same time? There aren't that many policemen. There isn't that much money to spend on public protection.

If it has come to the point where every strong-arm thug, rapist, sadist and child attacker can count on getting away unmolested because the only people who can stop him are wearing uniforms and badges, we've had it.

NEW YORKERS are hearing about neighborhood vigilantes. Police are distraught, but help should be welcomed.

The next thing New Yorkers should hear about is resistance from the ordinary run of citizens. They should hear about spontaneous opposition to the presence and the antics of mobs and gangs. They should hear about a few punks being beaten senseless by indignant "bystanders."

They should hear about some heroes and heroines who concluded it would be better to die as lions than sheep — people who refused to be cowed by terror.

Everybody is "involved" in terrorism. There is no way to blink it — no room to pass by on the other side of the road.

Somebody should call the cops. But in case no one did, or in case there's no cop coming in the next 15 seconds, how about swinging into action?

It won't be easy, but until it happens again, in the old-fashioned way, terrorists have been granted an open season and happy hunting — and may heaven help us rabbits.

The word "assassination" comes from "assassins" or "hash-shashin" (hemp-eaters), a band of Moslems in Persia and Asia Minor in the 1100's. They smoked a drug called hashish, made from the hemp plant, and then while under its influence murdered their enemies.

Reuther Lists Auto Union Demands

By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther and his union's high command are on the march against the automobile industry. They have put down their demands and battle plans in a series of confidential documents which are certain to raise temperatures and blood pressures in the air-conditioned executive suites of the manufacturers and the White House.

Victor Riesel

If the United Automobile Workers UAW union chiefs stick to these demands — and they say privately that they will —there certainly will be a series of strikes this summer and fall unless President Johnson intervenes. He will. But that may not avert all the walkouts.

Copies of one of these sizzling documents, an angrily worded, 71-page, mimeographed booklet, are now in the hands of leaders of locals at General Motors' 131 plants.

IT WAS HANDED to key regional labor officials at their Detroit strategy conference last week for guidance when they returned to their home cities.

Called "Justice on the Job," it contains 25 points.

The last is considered the most vital, according to insiders. Referred to simply as "Working Conditions," this four-page section provides an insight into what motivates the rank-and-file.

It's clear that the UAW will urge its locals to fight for a 10-minute rest period each hour—or about 80 minutes during a normal work day. There is a graphically written demand for "privacy" in the wash rooms. There is a charge that supervisors insist that, during relief time, the employe go directly to the washroom and then back to the assembly line. The union will insist on the worker's right to do what he wills with his relief time.

There are demands for work clothes and work gloves to be supplied by the company in good condition, for the right to refuse to work if the ventilation and other conditions "deemed proper" by the union are not met by the company, for time off and away from the factory for the handling of personal family and business matters.

ANOTHER DEMAND set out is for the ending of overtime while some union members are unemployed — unless there is a "short-time emergency."

The union says it will insist that it participate in deciding what constitutes the emergency. Furthermore, overtime shall be paid at double and triple time rates.

Reuther's union also wants a change in what management considers its rights. There is a clause in the UAW contract which says:

"The right to hire; promote; discharge or discipline for cause; and to maintain discipline and efficiency of employes, is the sole responsibility of the corporation except that union members shall not be discriminated against as such.

"In addition, the products to be manufactured, the location of plants, the schedules of production, the methods, processes and means of manufacturing are solely and exclusively the responsibility of the corporation."

THE UNION'S document says that these "rights" are not unrestricted and the section "shall not be continued in any new agreement unless mutally acceptable language can be developed which will put in proper perspective the various items specified and which will make clear the mutuality of interest of the employer and the employe, the corporation and the union in these improperly termed 'management rights'."

No company would budge on this one and insistence on such a change could cost the UAW its entire fund.

These are but a few of the union demands on just one company, albeit the biggest, with 354,000 plant workers.

Not included in this document is a formula for earlier retirement, because Reuther has not yet firmed it up. There is pressure from local union leaders around the Flint, Mich., area for a system permitting workers to retire after 25 or 30 years in the plants.

REUTHER OBJECTS, because this could mean that a chap who started at 20 years of age could retire from the auto plant at 45 or 50 years of age and take another job while receiving a pension. This would not remove the so called retiree from the work force and would not make for more job vacancies.

Reuther has been arguing inside the executive board that the money which the "25 to 30 year" formula would cost the companies could be used instead to buy annuities for the workers. This would give them $400 a month at 60 years of age. Or, says Reuther, a formula could be developed which would give a retiring 60-year-old worker full pay until he is 65. Then the company would continue to pay about $120 a month instead of the full wage. With social security this could come to $300 a month.

But proposals for earlier retirement are far from being abandoned.

These are just a few of the high spots — but enough to portend a "hot" summer.

Disunited West

By David Lawrence

Allies Should Help U.S. Fight For Freedom

Sometimes the obvious is overlooked, if not avoided. The real need today, in coming to grip with the problem of Southeast Asia, is not so much for a strategy conference on how the United States is to fight the war singly and with America alone making the sacrifices but to get unity among the Western powers and find ways to pinpoint Red China's responsibility for the chaos that its policies have produced in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

David Lawrence

It's not the obligation of the United States alone to help the people of Southeast Asia to emerge from the state of oppression imposed upon them by a powerful country north of their borders. The real enemy in Southeast Asia is Red China.

Today the realistic fact is that the smaller nations of Southeast Asia, as well as those in other parts of the world, are helpless by themselves to preserve their independence or to develop their economic opportunities. Two major powers —Soviet Russia and Red China —threaten weaker nations by infiltration, by subversion and even by military intervention as puppet armies and guerrilas are organized to stir up trouble.

Russia's role in Cuba and Latin American generally is as reprehensible as Red China's aggression in Asia.

THE UNITED STATES had hoped that some means of preserving international peace could be achieved by the United Nations but this body has failed to measure up to its responsibilities. The organization has become the victim of insidious infiltration by the Communist regimes of Peking and Moscow.

The only recourse today is to tell the story to the people of the world so that opinion may be mobilized everywhere behind a group of nations willing to take the lead in bringing about the independence of the smaller countries.

The United States cannot conduct the crusade alone. It must have help from Great Britain and France and from all the countries which have achieved progress in self-government and can supply military and economic assistance.

Under the Charter of the United Nations, any group of countries may undertake measures collectively to preserve order. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization was formed as a logical application of this provision of the U.N. Charter.

EUROPE ITSELF now is a relatively stable condition, and the problem of war and peace is centered in Asia, just as a few months ago it was in Africa. Whether the trouble is in Africa or in Latin America or in Asia, some concept of nations to maintain order in the world is required.

It won't be necessary merely to use military force to preserve peace once unity is established among the three nations of the world. Again and again, the Communists have benefited by the disunity among the Western Allies.

General de Gaulle today plays a lone hand. The British, who are closer to the point of view of the United States than any other nation, recognize that even two nations cannot do much alone, and that it will become necessary for the public opinion of other countries to be aroused before there can be a unified approach to those problems in Southeast Asia and elsewhere which are threatening the peace of the world.

The assumption, moreover, that only military force can be used to bring about peace is erroneous. It's an instrument that can, of course, be applied as a last resort but there are many other steps which also can prove effective. One of them is the consolidation of economic forces.

THE TENDENCY of many nations is to let their business interests control foreign policy. In the long run, business will suffer more if there is disunity in the world. So it becomes necessary to unify all countries in a common economic policy and to avoid giving commercial benefits either to Russia or to Red China as long as they engage in policies of hostility toward the rest of the world.

Some new move is necessary to mobilize world opinion. The United Nations can provide a forum but it cannot by itself put into effect the program necessary to assurance. This is because the Soviets have a veto power in the Security Council.

The Western nations, however, can act independently as a collective group, and this they can prepare to do, whether it is in the economic or military field.

Some way has to be devised to cause both Peking and Moscow to respect the wishes of the people of the rest of the world in their efforts to remain at peace. The small emerging nations must be permitted to develop their resources and their systems of self-government. It is not a task for the United States alone but for all the governments of the free world.

Nasser, New Spokesman

By Darius Jhabvala

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — President Nasser of the United Arab Republic is the most likely candidate for the late Indian Prime Minister Nehru's role as chief spokesman for the nonaligned nations.

His qualifications are high: He is the leader of the Arab world, a substantial voice within the nonaligned bloc; he was closer to Nehru than any other non-Asian; and his regime in Cairo, which is far more stable than many others, has played a vital role in coordinating the affairs of the nonaligned countries.

IF NASSER accepts the leadership of the group, however, he undoubtedly will be under pressure to take a fresh look at Arab policies toward Israel, which were devised and guided by him.

Nasser and other Arab leaders frequently have threatened to use arms against Israel. Such threats were abhorred by Nehru, who called for peaceful settlement of disputes.

Sources at the U.N. do not expect Nasser to change radically toward Israel. But they believe that as leader of the neutralist bloc, he would have to modify his militant stance and act to restrain other Arab chiefs who have been demanding strong action against their ancient enemy.

BESIDES Nasser, the Indian prime minister had around him a corps of luminaries such as President Tito of Yugoslavia, President Sukarno of Indonesia, U Nu of Burma and, more recently, President Nkrumah of Ghana.

But for one reason or another, none of them commands the respect that Nasser does.

Tito is a self-proclaimed neutralist but is regarded as a partisan on the Communist side.

Nkrumah is considered a tyrant and does not command the respect of Asians.

SUKARNO is thought of as an opportunist. And former Premier U Nu has fallen out of grace with his own government and has lost official contact with other neutral chiefs.

The nonaligned group, now numbering more than 50 nations, principally from Africa and Asia, got its political direction and basic policies from Nehru. He was its founder and leader for nearly two decades and provided it with its philosophical basis. It was his prestige that caused the nonaligned countries to be heard in international matters.

Club Hears Utility Aide

Full Area Development Urged By Rotary Guest

The need for "full development of the area, not just a lot of new smokestacks," was spelled out by Walter A. Durkin in a discussion of the role of Monongahela Power Co. in industrial development in West Virginia when the Rotary Club met Tuesday.

Durkin, area development representative for the utility's Panhandle Division, said the concern has a broad approach to industrial development, with a full department devoted to the job.

EXPLAINING the pottery industry's position as leading area product is challenged by brick, steel and other enterprise, Durkin said the most promising industry in the state is hardwood—not steel or coal.

He mentioned Timbercraft, Inc., of Chester as one of the new concerns and explained the West Virginia Forest Industries Industrial Foundation was created by the State Legislature in 1963 to promote and assist financially new wood industries.

Monongahela's broad role in industrial development includes acting as an independent agent to assist formation of "action groups," which develop a program and plans, promote fund-raising projects, and buy and maintain sites and available buildings, Durkin explained.

—:—

THE UTILITY publishes a catalogue listing available industrial sites, and the issues are sent to all points in the country, he said. One of those listed is the Hewitt farm adjacent to Waterford Park race track, now owned by the utility.

Monongahela also maintains a file in a central office on available property to furnish information to inquiring concerns. He explained that control of an industrial site is important from the standpoint of saving time on the purchasing transaction when a concern is ready to relocate.

Durkin said his company also furnishes statistics on the labor force available, and surveys the state for the number of "shell" structures available. Much of the information is sent out regularly.

The utility is also interested in water control programs, outdoor recreation, reclamation of strip mines, control of municipal waste and organic matter, tourism, and a new program, tree-planting, he said.

MONONGAHELA is also active in community planning, and Durkin said after three years work on a plan for the metropolitan Steubenville-Weirton area, he is just "getting a sense of direction." He said community planning, a subject in itself, "is going to be forced on you whether you like it or not."

Durkin also discussed at length various avenues of approach to financial assistance from state industrial development groups. He commended E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, for his work in the industrial development field.

The speaker was introduced by Charles D. Taylor, president of National Church Supply Co. of Chester, who in brief remarks said the Ohio River "should not divide, but should bind together," the local area. Ralph A. Finley, president, presided. Jack Allison, treasurer of National Church, was a guest.

Officers Seated By East End Post

Installation of officers for American Legion Post 374 and its auxiliary highlighted a joint meeting Monday night at the East End home.

Dwight Bush of North Georgetown, 10th District commander, installed the post officers headed by James Cregar as commander.

Auxiliary officers were installed by Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, past president. They were:

Mrs. Harriet Stull, president; Mrs. Dorothy Krafft, first vice president; Mrs. Freda Skvarka, second vice president; Mrs. Lois Burdick, secretary; Mrs. Frances Cusick, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Hughes, chaplain, and Mrs. Marie Fields, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Bush was a guest.

Lunch was served by the kitchen committee. Next meeting will be Monday night.

A dance will be held Saturday night to music of the Tempos.

Won't Hurt Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Foreign Minister Shen Changhuan said today termination of U.S. economic aid to Nationalist China in June 1965 will not seriously affect Formosa's normal economic growth because the country has a "sound industrial and agricultural foundation."

Rotary Gives Valedictorian Awards To 4

The third annual awards presentations to valedictorians of three local high schools preceded the program at the Rotary Club's noon luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

George Hargraves, chairman of the club's youth service committee and assistant superintendent of East Liverpool High School, was in charge of the brief ceremony.

Four valedictorians received individual plaques on which their names are enscribed.

Recipients were Toby Moidel and Terry Nusser, co-valedictorians of ELHS, Paul Rosso of Oak Glen in the Hancock County System, and William Tychonievich of Beaver Local High School.

The club also furnishes plaques to the schools and the names of the new valedictorians are listed on gold plates each year.

3 Area Men To Attend Development Meeting

Three East Liverpool area men representing the North Hancock County Development Organization will attend the Governor's Conference on Industrial Development Thursday on the campus of West Virginia University at Morgantown.

They are Alvin T. Babb of YELP Service, Inc., T. H. Kashuba of the T. K. Roofing Manufacturing Co. and E. R. Chandler, secretary of the development organization.

Gov. W. W. Barron of West Virginia will give the welcome. Representatives of the West Virginia Industrial Development Department and industrialists will explain what factors a firm seeks in a community when considering it as a location for a new plant.

The greater percentage of auto deaths occur in the night time when there is comparatively lighter traffic.

Warren Unit Plans To Hear More From Oswald's Widow

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

—:—

WARREN: The Warren Commission, investigating the slaying of President John F. Kennedy, has decided to hear more testimony from the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of the assassination.

In announcing Tuesday that Mrs. Oswald would return on June 11, the commission declined to say why she is being recalled.

—:—

CASTRO: State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips has denounced as "absurd and preposterous" charges by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that the United States is conducting germ warfare against Cuba.

Scoffing Tuesday at Castro's statement that three men executed in Cuba were agents of the Central Intelligence Agency, Phillips said:

"Castro self-servingly brands opponents of his regime as CIA agents whenever it suits his purpose to do so. I have no other comment on that charge."

—:—

CRASH: Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby predicts the May 7 Pacific Air Lines crash in which 44 persons were killed near Concord, Calif., may soon be reclassified as a "case of murder and sabotage."

During a discussion of airline security measures Tuesday, Halaby told newsmen he expects the FBI and the Civil Aeronautics Board to issue a statement soon on their investigation of the crash.

The plane went down on a flight from Reno, Nev., to San Francisco, killing all aboard.

Ohio School Districts To Share $1 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than half of Ohio's school districts are scheduled to share $1 million extra this month.

The Controlling Board will take up the matter Thursday for 479 of the 799 districts which receive state aid for bus transportation. Approval would boost the annual allotment to $16.5 million, compared with $15.4 million last year.

Plans to make the money available stem from court litigation tying up $2.9 million appropriated for centralized bus purchasing.

The purchasing plan was designed to save the state $1 million and local districts about $500,000 a year on new buses. The extra distribution will enable boards, which had planned to buy new buses, to condition their vehicles pending outcome of the suit, a state official said.

Cancer Fatal At 42

HOW TO BLOW YOUR NOSE

Physicians advise that one should not stop up one side of the nose and then blow the other. Some of the force will back up into the throat. Also, germ-laden mucous might be driven into the middle ear with a possible infection resulting.

Blow your nose gently. It must last you a lifetime. Don't pick or pull hairs from it. A serious infection may be caused. And, if it troubles you and home remedies don't give quick help, don't delay. Go to your physician for inspection and skilled treatment.

Dear friends,

The funeral is usually held in the church, the private home or the funeral director's establishment. Personal preference, pre-arrangement, or religious ritual determines the choice.

Because of ample facilities and a lessening of burden, the trend is toward the funeral home. The family should consult with the funeral director before making a final decision.

BRASILIA is quite unlike any other furniture grouping that has gone before it—because it takes its design elements, not from a mood, a designer's day-dream, a whim or a fancy, but from the world's newest architectural phenomena, the new and vital city of Brasilia.

The result is furniture that looks to the future—architectural in conception, beautiful in interpretation, Contemporary in feeling. The most frequent motifs from the city of Brasilia are: the Colonnades from the Palace of the Dawn, used as overlays on many pieces and as drawer pulls... the foundation design from the Palace of Justice, used as bases on most pieces... the wood paneling of the Chapel of Our Lady of Fatima ... the spire design from the Cathedral of Brasilia, used as bases on tables.

Magnificently crafted by Broyhill Premier in walnut veneers, and some rosewood veneers and solid pecan, with gleaming solid brass drawer pulls.

If you're forward looking... if you want furniture of enduring beauty, BRASILIA is for you! Come see it in all its elegance in special room settings.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I work in an office where at least once a week someone approaches me about joining an office pool. If it isn't the Rose Bowl, a professional football game or the Kentucky Derby, it's the All-Star game or the World Series.

Gambling is against my principles but I never have criticized those who do it. I just say "No" and let it go.

Something new has come up, however, and I wonder if I should say something.

Five of my co-workers have formed a pool in which each of them has listed the names of 100 famous people who may die during 1964. When one of these people dies, the ones who had his name add points to their scores by deducting the age of the deceased from 100.

Recently a well known American died. Mr. X came bounding into the office all smiles and announced triumphantly, "He was on my list."

Under the rules it says, "If the player himself dies, 10 points should be added to his score. If at the end of the year he is the winner, the proceeds of the pool should be spent for flowers for his grave, unless the surviving players should vote to have a party."

What do you think of this? — D. F.

-:-

Dear D. F.: What you describe is a reheated version of the old ghoul pool. Anyone who would make a game out of death is a tasteless clod.

Real Emergency

Dear Ann: This is an emergency. I need help right away. I'm 21, my fiance is 24. The wedding has been planned for September. I learned today that I'm pregnant.

I'm ashamed to tell you how ignorant I'm about these things. It will break my mother's heart if we don't have the big wedding as planned. That's all Mom has talked about for months.

The doctor said the baby is due in six months. Do you think if I wear a tight girdle and stand up straight I can get away with it? Hurry your answer — and put it in the paper, please. I can't have your reply coming to the house. — FINGERS CROSSED.

-:-

Dear Crossed: Sorry, I can't be of much help. I don't know if you are slim or heavy, whether you will gain 10 pounds or 40 pounds. Some girls look pregnant in the third month and others look as if they are going to a dance when they are really going to the hospital to deliver.

People can and do count, so don't plan on putting anything over — even with the help of a tight girdle. Your best bet is to level with your mother and ask her what she thinks should be done.

Reception Guests

Dear Ann: My sisters and I plan to give a party in honor of our parents' 35th wedding anniversary. Since my home is the largest, I have offered to have the party here.

The trouble is my folks know everybody in town and the guest list will run to about 300 people. My home can't accommodate that crowd but I don't see how we can trim the list.

My husband suggested we remove all the chairs from the house to discourage people from sitting down. We plan to have sandwiches and a sweet table but folks like to sit when they are having a snack — especially the men — so I vetoed the no-chairs idea.

I know you are not running a social column, but this comes under the heading of a problem. Please suggest something. —HATTIE.

-:-

Dear Hattie: Stagger the guests. Invite 50 for 3 p.m., another 50 for 4 p.m. and so on.

Of course, some people can be depended on to arrive with the first wave and to hang around till the last drop is poured but nobody ever has figured out what to do about THEM, so don't TRY.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Police At Palestine Investigate Theft Try

EAST PALESTINE — Police are continuing an investigation of an apparent burglary attempt at the Sutherin Brothers Drugstore of N. Market St. Monday night.

Two men were seen at the rear of the store getting into an auto, presumably scared away by the approach of a police cruiser.

Later, officers found a hole had been punched through the rear door next to the lock. The possibility of an attempt at another site is also being probed.

AWARD RECIPIENTS. These six graduating seniors were among scholarship winners announced at the East Liverpool High School commencement Tuesday. They are Darla Coulter, Karen Maola, Cathleen Goddard, Susan Smith, Curtis Battistelli and Rogers Hicks. Miss Maola and Miss Smith received Hi-Tri college scholarships, Miss Coulter the Hi-Tri nursing award, Miss Goddard and Battistelli the Lake Marwin Association Scholarships and Hicks the initial Ralph W. Betts Memorial Award.

Awards Total $6,350 For 11 ELHS Seniors

Mildred Smith, 528 Southview Dr.

Both plan to attend Kent State University with Miss Maola studying secondary education and Miss Smith enrolling in either music or speech and hearing therapy.

Darla Coulter, daughter of Mrs. Marian E. Coulter of Lisbon St. Ext., received the Hi-Tri's nursing scholarship. She plans to enroll at City Hospital School of Nursing.

—:—

RECIPIENTS of the Lake Marwin Association scholarships were Cathleen Goddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goddard, 1249 Chaffin St., and Curtis Gene Battistelli, son of Mrs. Helen Battistelli, 210 Jackson St.

They also plan to enroll at Kent State with Miss Goddard planning to be a laboratory technician or teacher and Battistelli enrolling in a pre-medical course.

The initial Ralph W. Betts Memorial Award of $100 went to Roger J. Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hicks, 163 S. Surrey Rd., who plans to enroll in a pre-law course at Bowling Green State University.

Funds for the memorial to the late superintendent were contributed by faculty and students with a goal of $2,500 to perpetuate the award through the interest received each year.

The awards were announced by Supt. Paul H. Blair.

—:—

RECOGNIZED for scholarships they obtained and the school they plan to attend were:

Richard Anderson and Nusser, Case Institute of Technology; Bruce Burbick, Clemson; Charlotte Clark, ministerial scholarship to Baldwin-Wallace College; Greg Claypool, U.S. Naval Academy; Alex Davidson, Geneva College.

Rebecca Hopper, Ohio State University Hospital's School of Radiology; Mary Alice Kendall, Lions Club nursing scholarship; Lynn Llewellyn, Mt. Union College trustee scholarship; Miss Lonkert, Bowling Green State University.

Gerald (Bud) Manley, Baldwin - Wallace College; Toby Moidel, president's general university scholarship at Ohio State, and Lois Rodenhausen, Alderson - Broaddus College.

—:—

FOLLOWING the announcement of the scholarship winners, diplomas were given out by Harry D. McConville, president of the Board of Education, after the class was presented by Carl F. Pelini, high school principal. McConville also spoke briefly.

Rizk, author of "Syrian Yankee," used as the theme of his address, "America Is More Than a Country."

He traced his early history and how as an orphan in the Syrian village of Ain Arab he learned he was an American citizen and of his subsequent arrival in Iowa.

As an immigrant dishwasher in Ames, with only a limited command of English, he was invited to address a service club on his views of America and which eventually led him into his career.

—:—

"EVER SINCE the atomic bomb fell on Hiroshima, I feel the world moved a thousand years overnight and that we all have to adjust ourselves to the new age. My experience in becoming Americanized will have to be repeated all over again — by all of us. Only this time it will be harder because it will have to be made faster."

Rizk said he tried then to determine the size and quality of the American ideals and whether they were worthy of man's highest loyalty in face of utter destruction.

Arranging an international lecture tour, Rizk said he learned more about America from audiences in Europe and the Middle East than they learned from him.

In effect, Rizk said they told him, "Either America will become like the Old World, or the whole world will become like America."

—:—

"THROUGH THE EYES of these men and women I began to see a greater destiny for our country: to build in the world the institutions which have made America what she is. These original and audacious American ideals, more than dollars, more than NATOs or alliances, or A-bombs, if launched in the world would spell all the difference between hope and despair.

"The American dream is not just the American dream but the bravest, clearest and most Godly expression of the human dream — the vindication and fulfillment of the hopes and visions and prayers and tears of good men everywhere.

"America is the proving ground, the pattern for the future decent, civilized and democratic world republic-to-be some day when the whole world becomes an America." Rizk was introduced by Pelini.

—:—

DAVISON SANG "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by a classmate, James Chadwick.

After the diplomas were awarded, Chema read the graduate's creed and the class sang "Alma Mater."

The invocation was given by the Rev. Claude G. Schlosser of the First Church of the Nazarene and the benediction by the Rev. Nusser Jr. of the Mt. Zion Methodist Church.

The Concert Band directed by Vincent Maola Jr., supervisor of instrumental music, played the processional and recessional as the graduates entered and left the auditorium.

Hancock Sheriff Lists 19 Mishaps

The office of Hancock County Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny investigated 19 accidents in May in which 29 vehicles were involved and 17 persons injured.

There were no fatalities and damage in the mishaps amounted to $10,750. Deputies made 38 arrests during the month and confined 28 persons in the County Jail.

Weirton police confined three prisoners, and New Cumberland police and Chester police, one each.

Sheriff Manypenny and one of his deputies transported suspended Weirton attorney Morton H. Rosenshine to Moundsville Penitentiary Tuesday morning.

Rosenshine was sentenced to prison terms of 1-10 years each on two grand larceny indictments. The sentences are to be served concurrently.

Pope Paul Celebrates Mass

Homage Paid Pope John On Anniversary Of Death

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI led the Roman Catholic Church today in homage to Pope John XXIII on the first anniversary of his death.

The pontiff descended into the crypt beneath St. Peter's Basilica to celebrate a memorial Mass before the flower-decked tomb of Pope John. Then he knelt for several minutes in silent prayer.

A succession of Masses followed before the tomb. One was celebrated by Msgr. Loris Capovilla, who was Pope John's private secretary.

Another memorial service was scheduled at Sotto il Monte, Pope John's native village where his brother still works their farms.

Pilgrims by the thousands thronged to the pope's birthplace in the north Italian mountains. A petition with 50,000 signatures, asking the start of a beatification cause for Pope John, was brought to Bishop Clemente Gaddi of the Bergamo diocese, which includes Sotto il Monte.

Beatification is the first step toward possible sainthood.

It was at dusk last June 3 that Pope John died at the age of 81 after four days of agony from a stomach tumor.

He had reigned less than five years, but the work he began—the renewal and transition of Roman Catholicism—lives on.

Few popes in the Church's nearly 2,000 years made so profound an impression.

He summoned the Ecumenical Council to let the fresh air of modern times into the Church. He hoped renewal of the Church would help the growing movement toward Christian unity.

Through word and deed he showed himself an unconventional pope. He ventured freely from the Vatican. He received a top Communist in private audience, Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nephew Alexei Adzhubei. He said in his encyclical "Peace on Earth" that in certain situations Catholics and Communists could work together for the common good of man.

This brought him criticism, particularly in Italy after the Communist party made strong gains in a general election. But Pope John once said the pope had to be a father to all.

More Aides Needed For Swim Class

Some additional aides are needed for the Red Cross swimming classes scheduled this month and in July, officials of the East Liverpool Red Cross office announced.

Training of the aides will begin Monday at the Thompson Park pool, Don Ross, director of the classes, announced.

Anyone with a senior life saving certificate or currently working for one may serve. The training sessions for the aides will begin Monday morning at 8:30 at the pool, and will continue through next week.

Anyone interested in serving as an aide may notify the Red Cross office, Mrs. Maudine Schiff, water safety chairman, said.

The free swimming classes will be conducted June 15-July 3 and July 6-24. The classes are open to anyone from 6 to 80, who obtains the registration form at the office and has the approval of their family, if a juvenile, and a physician.

Some registrations are available for the first classes.

The Red Cross is currently marking the 50th anniversary of its water safety program.

14 Counties Under Quarantine

Ohio Action Under Way To Stop Beetles Spread

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Extensive action under way to stop the spread of the beetles —cereal leaf variety—in Ohio is aimed at preventing serious crop damage as has hit neighboring Michigan.

A wide sector of northwestern Ohio, taking in most of 14 counties, already is under quarantine and a hearing is slated for June 30 which will place the rest of the state under quarantine as a means to protecting the state's threatened grain crops.

Placing the state's grain crops under quarantine allows the State Agriculture Department much closer control than normally is possible. Agriculture Director John Stackhouse explained that only certain areas of the state will be closely regulated even after the entire state is quarantined.

But he said that the quarantine aciton is being taken because any area of the state can be regulated under it if necessary.

Otherwise, long, involved action is necessary to place an area under quarantine, he said, "and if it isn't begun until the beetle is discovered, the insect could take hold."

Stackhouse emphasized that the actions being taken are mainly precautionary, but he said that if they are not taken now serious crop loss and economic damage is imminent. He said the beetle has been known to move 50 to 60 miles at a time.

The beetle, which has been a pest for years in Europe and Africa, was first discovered in this country in 1959 in Michigan. Stackhouse noted that the beetle is one of the reasons —"although probably not the major one"—for recent wheat crop failures in the Soviet Union. The voracious insect is nearly a quarter-inch long and has black head and wing covers and red body and legs.

Michigan, which has been the hardest hit, first suffered economic loss to crops in 1962. Since then, it has increased and in several counties losses of from 20 to 50 per cent, which means loss of $20 to $30 an acre, have been reported. Hardest hit has been oat crops.

Stackhouse said that last year many Michigan farmers were forced to completely plow under their crops which had been invaded by millions of the insects. He said in some areas as many as 2,000 of the beetles can be taken with a single scoop of a net.

Twins Sink Yanks Again; LA's Chance Fans 15

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dean Chance stormed out of Fred Haney's office in a contract hassle recently and aimed a parting shot at the Los Angeles Angels' general manager.

'All right," said Chance, 'I'll pitch an $18,000 season."

Neither Chance nor Haney expected him to try and do it in one game.

But Chance tried to against Boston Tuesday night, turning in one of the top pitching performances of the season, keeping the Red Sox hitless for 5 2-3 innings and finishing with a two-hitter while striking out 15 in a 1-0 Los Angeles victory.

Chance, a 22-year-old right-hander, had a shot at a no-hitter and probably a pay raise until Dick Stuart lined a single to center with two out in the sixth. He also ha a shot at the record 18-strikeout mark and probably a pay raise until he ran out of whiffs in the last two innings.

Chance had 13 strikeouts through seven innings, but struck out only one in each of the last two innings and settled for the season's high of 15, an impressive 2.12 earned-run average and a 4-2 score. Now he needs only 20 more victories to get his raise.

The 24-victory yardstick was applied by Haney a week ago Tuesday when the Angels called a special press conference and brought up the subject of Chance's contract dispute with the club. At that time, Haney said an $18,000 season figures out to about "24 winning games."

While Chance was showing Haney his stuff, standout pitching efforts also were turned in by:

—Sam McDowell, a $100,000 bonus baby recently recalled from the minors who struck out 14 as Cleveland defeated Chicago 3-2 and knocked the White Sox out of the American League lead.

—Baltimore's Dave McNally who posted his second shutout with a six-hit, 4-0 triumph over Kansas City that lifted the Orioles into first place.

—Gerry Arrigo, who kept eight hits well spaced in Minnesota's 6-2 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Besides Stuart's single, the only other hit off Chance was a single by Felix Mantilla leading off the ninth.

Chance got the only run he needed and the only one of the game in the fourth when Jack Lamabe walked Joe Koppe, Billy Moran singled and Lee Thomas doubled.

McDowell, a 21-year-old left-hander with only eight major legaue victories since receiving his $100,000 four years ago, now has posted two of the victories since being recalled from the minors last Saturday.

Leon Wagner homered in the third inning for the Indians—No. 12 of the season and his fourth in four games—and Cleveland broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth when Max Alvis and Larry Brown hit consecutive homers.

Boog Powell homered for the Orioles, who scored two of their first three runs on wild pitches by Orlando Pena, now 6-4.

Hector Lopez homered in the eighth for the Yankees but the Twins already had put it out of reach as Tony Oliva stroked three hits and John Goryl, Bernie Allen, Don Mincher and Earl Battey all collected triples.

Phillies Nip LA To Lead By 1½

Gene Mauch reached into his bag for a Cookie and came up with a Cracker-Jack.

Sniffing a pennant and looking for the big trade that might bring one, the Philadelphia Phillies decided to display some of their excess talent last week in the hopes of drumming some business in the National League market place.

Manager Mauch looked down his bench and there, residing in a quiet corner, was utility infielder Cookie Rojas, a career .221 hitter. With an average like that, you've got to be considered excess. So Mauch tapped Cookie to take over for Tony Taylor at second base for a couple of games.

That was a week ago and Taylor hasn't started a game since. Rojas has 14 hits in 21 at bats since taking over for a .667 batting average. Of course that's much more than his season's average which is only .548 on 17 for 31.

Rojas continued his hot streak with two hits against the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night as Philadelphia maintained its National League lead with a 4-3 victory.

Cookie scored the Phillies' first run when he doubled, stole third and came in on Richie Allen's long fly. After Ken McMullen's two-run homer had tied it at 3-3 in the top of the seventh, Rojas opened the Phillie half with a single.

Allen's single and an intentional walk loaded the bases and Cookie trotted home with the winning run when Ron Perranoski walked Wes Covington.

The victory, coupled with San Francisco's 3-1 loss to Pittsburgh, extended the Phillies' league lead to 1½ games. In other NL games, Cincinnati ralled to beat Warren Spahn and Milwaukee 7-5, New York came from behind and whipped Houston 7-4 and Chicago downed St. Louis 5-2.

Rojas' hitting helped Dennis Bennett win his seventh game in 10 decisions. In addition to scoring the first and fourth runs Cookie squeezed John Herrnstein home with a perfect sacrifice bunt in the second inning.

And to rub salt into Los Angeles' wounds, old friend Ed Roebuck hurled the ninth inning and set the Dodgers down 1-2-3.

Spahn was breezing with a 5-1 lead and a five-hitter through seven innings when the Reds suddenly turned the tables. A four-run eighth tied it and then run-scoring hits by Deron Johnson and Frank Robinson won it in the ninth.

The Braves built the big lead early with two-run homers by Gene Oliver and Denis Menke the key blows. Oliver also had a solo homer.

Bob Veale hurled a five-hitter for his second straight victory over the Giants and his fifth win in eight decisions. He struck out nine and walked four.

The Pirates grabbed a quick lead in the second inning when Willie Stargell tripled, Gene Freese doubled and Donn Clendenon singled for two runs. Jim Davenport's fifth-inning single delivered the only Giant run.

The Mets trailed 4-2 going into the seventh when three hits, two Colt errors and a pair of hit batters produced five runs and the victory.

New York spotted Houston a 4-0 lead and then got 8 2-3 innings of airtight relief from Bill Wakefield and Frank Lary to win it.

Hot-hitting Billy Williams had three hits including his 14th homer and ran his league-leading average to .422 against St. Louis as the Cubs won their sixth in the last seven games.

Ron Santo, Billy Cowan and Jim Schaffer also homered for Chicago and Larry Jackson went the route to beat his ex-teammates.

473 Shoot For Places In U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP)—Six golfers who have won the U. S. Open championship will be just six familiar names among 473 trying to qualify for the 64th U.S. Open next Monday and Tuesday.

For the record, they are Cary Middlecoff, winner in 1949 and 1956; Tony Manero, who won back in 1936; Lew Worhsam, 1947; Ed Furgol, 1954; Jack Fleck, 1955, and Tommy Bolt, 1958.

The five who have won the Open since Bolt are exempt from sectional qualifying.

Twelve of 13 former PGA champions also must be listed merely as hopefuls, though few are likely to miss qualifying. The 13th is someone different. He is Sam Snead, the man who has won just about everything in golf except the Open and who still is trying.

Snead has placed in 23 consecutive National Opens. He has finished second four times, once losing a playoff to Worsham, but never has been on top.

Tuesday, Snead will be struggling against 81 rivals, among them some of the leading pro tourists, for the 39 qualifying places available in the Detroit section. Others include Bolt, Jerry Barber, the 1961 PGA champion; Phil Rodgers, who tied New Zealand's Bob Charles in the British Open last year but lost in a playoff; Labron Harris Jr., the 1962 U. S. Amateur champion, now a pro; and such noted pro tourists as Art Wall, Bob Goalby, Johnny Pott, Doug Sanders and Ken Venturi.

The Detroit and New York sections are the biggest and strongest of the 13 listed today by the U. S. Golf Association. The 36-hole qualifying rounds will be played there and at three other locations on Tuesday. Eight sections will hold their rounds Monday.

The former Open and PGA champions are among 45 who were exempt from local qualifying two weeks ago. They join 428 survivors of the local tests seeking 129 places available in the championship at Washington's Congressional Country Club June 18-20.

Twenty-one are exempt from all qualifying and go right into the final 150-man field. They include the five most recent Open winners, Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper; amateur champion Deane Beman and Charles, the British Open king.

Mets Pitcher Taken Off List Of Disabled

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Carlton Willey of the New York Mets, who sustained a fractured jaw when hit by a batted ball in an exhibition game April 3, has been taken off the disabled list, the club announced Tuesday night.

To make room on the roster for Willey, the Mets sent pitcher Craig Anderson to their Buffalo farm club in the International League.

Willey, 33, was the Mets' top right-hander last year, winning 9 and losing 14 following his purchase from the Milwaukee Braves. He had not allowed an earned run in 11 innings during the exhibition season when he was struck down by a line drive off the bat of Detroit outfielder Gates Brown.

Records Should Fall Fast At 1st Ohio Track Classic

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Records are expected to fall here Saturday when a glittering array of high school track and field stars compete in the first annual Ohio Track Classic.

Close to 100 athletes and 12 relay teams—the cream of the crop in Ohio—will vie for honors over Malabar High School's new track.

Ten top athletes in each event selected by the Ohio Association of Track Coaches, have been invited to the meet. Their selection was based on times and performances compiled over the full season.

Only the state meet Class AA and A individual champions won automatic entry.

Best bets for new marks would be in the mile run and the pole vault. Ricky Poole of Dayton Jefferson is the runner to watch in both the mile and 880. He set records in both events at the state meet two weeks ago, only the second athlete to perform that feat.

Two-time state pole vault titlist and record-holder John Linta III of Mansfield Malabar has a shot at breaking his own all-time Ohio mark of 14 feet-8 inches, set last month.

And sensational sprint star Craig Wallace, who single-handedly carried Dayton Dunbar to the Class AA state crown, is entered in the 100, 220 and broad jump.

Wallace ran a wind - aided :09.4 100 in the state meet and broad jumped 24-2¾, third best in the nation this year.

Lou Daggett of Akron East, who high jumped 6-8 this spring for an all-time state mark, also is entered.

A crowd of 2,500 is expected to witness the event, scheduled for 3 p.m. (EST). There are no preliminaries.

Mrs. Weese Wins Club Golf Event

Mrs. Gordon Weese recorded 49-51-100 to win the Ladies par-birdie-eagle contest Tuesday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

While Mrs. Weese took low gross, Mrs. J. M. Wells Jr. and Mrs. R. J. Kinsey scored 18 points each to tie for low net.

Mrs. Weese and Mrs. Kinsey showed 33 putts each to tie in that event.

Mrs. Arthur Doak took low gross in the second division with 60 and Mrs. J. M. Koos with eight points captured low net.

The putting was won by Mrs. W. J. Hocking with 16 shots.

Andy Petrick, club pro, announced a children's golf clinic for youngsters 15 and under would be held Saturday at 10 a. m. A second clinic will be held June 20.

Wells Ranks Fifth In Seniors Golf Play

Joseph Wells of Newell Heights fired a 43-45-88 to rank fifth in the 75-79 age class after the first round of the 60th U.S. Seniors Golf Championship being held at Rye, N. Y. William Diddle of Carmel, Ind., took the first round lead in the class with a 77.

Canal Completed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has completed a 224-mile canal from the Baltic Sea to the Volga River. The Soviet news agency Tass said it will take over at least 15 million tons of cargo a year from overburdened railroads.

Newell, Hookstown Win Openers In S. Side Loop

Newell and Hookstown claimed opening day victories in the senior division of the South Side Hot Stove League Tuesday.

Newell led by George Gogal's two roundtrippers defeated Frankfort, 13-8, in a game played at Newell. Jack Ring gained the mound victory while Lynn Hall was the loser.

Hookstown posted a 5-3 win over Hanover on its home grounds with Tom Doak hurling the decision. Ron Halstead was the loser. Frank Scott's two hits paced the Hookstown nine.

In a Junior Division game played Monday, Shippingport was a 22-0 winner over Hanover.

Veteran Glass Notches 5th Little League Win

Veteran Plate Glass walked off with its fifth straight victory in the American Division of Little League with a 12-5 win over Vernon Dell.

Joe March led a 10-hit attack with a home run for the winners while Walker was the winning pitcher. Kim Kemple was the loser.

In the National Division, the Medics came from behind to defeat Chester Legion, 9-6. J. Moore carried the heaviest bat with a triple, two singles and five runs batted in. T. Hoyt was the winning pitcher and collected three singles.

S. Murray had five RBI's for the Chester nine on a home run, double and single.

McBurney's routed Burbick's, 14-3, in another contest. Karl Sayre the starting pitcher for McBurney's was forced to leave the game in the first inning and Rick Shuck took over and allowed only one hit in the last five innings.

Jerry Christian had a perfect four - for - four night for the winners including a home run. Bill Cox stroked two triples.

Epsom Derby Today

EPSOM, England (AP)—Seventeen colts, including five owned by Americans, were set today to contest the richest Epsom Derby of all time—and one of the wettest.

A prize of $201,801 awaited the owner of the horse winning the race around the 1½-mile rain-soaked course on Epsom Downs, scene of Britain's most famous horse race since 1780.

Dentists Nip South Siders In Colt Loop

Bob Burkhart and Bill Wright locked up in a pitcher's duel before the Dentists shoved across two runs in the sixth inning for a 2-0 victory over South Side in a Colt League contest Tuesday.

Lawrence drove in both runs for the winners in the sixth inning.

Both hurlers only gave up three hits with Wright fanning 12 batters. Burkhart showed three strikeouts and neither pitcher issued a walk.

List In Belmont Run Reaches Five

NEW YORK (AP)—The list of likely challengers to Northern Dancer in Saturday's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct has been padded to five with the addition of John Galbreath's Orientalist.

The Darby Dan Farm's speed colt, a son of Swaps, was entered Tuesday for the supplementary fee of $5,000. Orientalist, whose victory in a mile test at Aqueduct last Friday was his first in nine starts this year, joins Hill Rise, Roman Brother, Quadrangle and Shook in the probable field seeking to veto Northern Dancer's Triple Crown bid.

Of the five contenders, however, only Hill Rise is a definite starter in the 1½ mile Belmont.

Braulio Baeza has been engaged to ride Orientalist, regarded as a speed merchant off his previous starts. Jimmy Conway, the colt's trainer, said Tuesday that Northern Dancer "stands out like a lighthouse" in the Belmont field.

"At the same time," Conway added, "he hasn't been a mile and a half yet, so we are taking a shot, like the others."

The Canadian-bred Dancer, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, is seeking the first Triplee Crown swep since Citation's feat in 1948.

Trading Is Dugout Talk As Deadline Approaches

NEW YORK (AP)—Dugouts are buzzing with trade talk as the June 15 deadline approaches and both the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers appear vulnerable.

Bullpen problems prompted the St. Louis Cardinals to deal 37-year-old Lew Burdette to the Chicago Cubs for Glen Hobbie, another veteran right-hander, in a Tuesday deal.

The Dodgers are doing their level best to bolster a pitching staff that developed a leak when Johnny Podres went on the shelf.

Hank Aguirre may be next to walk the plank at Detroit and could be Dodger-bound if the Tigers could get waivers on the lefty in the American League.

Chuck Dressen already unloaded one of his veterans when he sent Frank Lary to the New York Mets on a conditional purchase.

The Minnesota Twins reportedly are interested in Ken McBride, the Los Angeles' Angels' pitcher who has been having a tough time winning.

With the Yanks limping along only a few games over the .500 mark, the Twins are convinced they can make a strong move for the pennant if they can come up with some more pitching.

Even the Yankees are trade-minded. The relief pitching has been something less than sensational and Yogi Berra is looking for help, either from the majors or the Richmond farm. Because of the persistent injuries to Mickey Mantle, the regular line-up remains unsettled.

British Lightweight King Gains Decision Over Lane

LONDON (AP)—Dave Charnley, the British conqueror of Kenny Lane, clamored today for a title fight with world lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz. He may get it soon "if the price is right," said the champion.

Charnley, the British lightweight king and seventh-ranking contender, finished strong to gain the referee's decision over Lane, top-ranking contender from Muskegon, Mich., at the indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night.

A crowd of 8,000 cheered loudly when referee Andy Smith, the lone official, raised the Briton's arm in triumph. His scorecard was not disclosed. That is customary here. The Associated Press had Lane in front 5-3 in rounds, with two even.

"We are ready, willing and able for a title shot at Ortiz," said Charnley. "I think it will be in London."

Ortiz said in New York he would be happy to defend his crown against the left-handed Briton in London, San Juan or New York.

"It will go where I can get the most money," said Ortiz. "If the price is right I'll defend against anybody."

Charnley weighed 137¾, Lane 137½.

After this fall Georgia Tech footballers will play two straight seven-home game seasons.

Lamp's Loft Captures First In Pigeon Race

Richard Lamp's loft took first place in a 300-mile old bird pigeon race Sunday flown from Greenfield, Ind.

The pigeons encountered heavy rain along the course and only four birds finished.

Sheldon Franket's loft was second with Rey Perrino, third and Pat Connor fourth.

Next Sunday's race will be a 400-mile test from Terre Haute, Ind. The East Liverpool Club will participate in the Youngstown Concourse 600-mile race from St. Louis Saturday.

Midland and Freedom will meet on Saturday Nov. 7 at Midland in a game beginning at 11:30 in the morning. Things To Be Grateful For

During Trouble Time—

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things to be grateful for in a troubled time:

All things young and fair—colts and calves and grave-eyed babies and romping puppies chasing butterflies.

Lying in the grass and hearing the drone of a nearby bee drowning out the distant jet plane as you look into a soft summer sky and try to tell your fortune in the drifting milk-white clouds.

All the tastes of summer—corn on the cob, sourgrass, great red strawberries heaped with sugar like miniature Mt. Fujiyamas, great ripe tomatoes bursting with juice that runs down your chin, huge slices of watermelon in which a small boy can bury his face from ear to ear.

Having the repair man tell you, "No, I don't think you'll have to buy a new air-conditioning unit this year. This one ought to hold out okay through September."

Young couples holding hands self-consciously on park benches as they watch pigeons indulging in bold courtship on the sidewalk.

The ache of tired muscles as you sail home at sunset in a small boat, feeling like Columbus returning from enchanted seas.

Stretching out at the edge of a small stream with a fishing pole held in your dozing hands, and not caring a whoop whether the fish bite or swim off to Timbuktu.

Tremulous daughters in shimmering summer dresses waiting with moist hands to walk to the platform and get their high school diplomats.

Old ladies leaning fat arms on pillows in tenement windows as they stare down at the passing street life below them like wrinkled goddesses, careless of mankind.

The pace at the office slows down as the boss leaves earlier in the afternoon for an important conference with an important customer, taking his golf clubs along—just in case.

Waking in the morning to find that your wife has already got up and mowed the lawn. Bully for her. Good old girl!

Sitting on the front porch in the clamorous night and having a small child inquire, "Daddy, why can't you catch falling stars and put them in a bottle—just like fireflies?"

$29 Million Awarded In Price Fixing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six of America's biggest electrical equipment manufacturers Tuesday were ordered to pay nearly $29 million to two Philadelphia utilities for fixing prices and rigging bids in the sale of power transformers.

A fedreal grand jury fixed damages at more than $9.6 million in the civil anti-trust case, and U. S. District Judge John S. Lord III promptly trebled, as allowed under the law.

It was the biggest verdict in a civil damage suit in the history of the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

The damage suit was brought by the Philadelphia Electric Co. and the United Gas Improvement Co. against General Electric Co., Westinghouse Electric Corp., Allis - Chalmers of West Allis, Wis.; Moloney Electric Co., both of St. Louis, and McGraw - Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.

The utilities, which had sought $12.7 million for alleged overcharges, claimed the prices they paid for transformers in the 1950s were "raised fixed and maintained at high and artificial levels."

Court Holds Woman In Wellsville Theft

Mary Ellen Lawson, 19, of Youngstown was bound over to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon on a grand larceny charge filed in connection with alleged theft of $173 worth of cigarettes from a Wellsville grocery.

The young woman waived the preliminary hearing. She was remanded to County Jail in lieu of bond.

Indicted by the April Grand Jury, she is accused of taking the cigarettes from the Mason Foodliner. Carlton Council, 27, of Youngstown, accused of receiving stolen goods in connection with the same case, has pleaded guilty and requested probation.

Diamond Rings Stolen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Some $8,300 worth of diamond rings was stolen from the Rike Department Store between 5 p.m. Monday and 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, store officials said. Robert E. Raymond, a buyer in the jewelry department, said the rings ranged in value from $60 to $1,600.

Biggest Boost Since GI Bill

Government Considers New Job Training Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering a proposal which proponents say would give American job training its biggest boost since the GI Bill.

The idea, proposed by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship, is to treat job skills like capital investments and give employers tax credits for training new workers and upgrading the abilities of present employes.

"Cost to the employer is the greatest single bar to an adequate apprenticeship and training program in America," the committee said in making the recommendation to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

High Labor Department officials view the recommendation as an important proposal in their efforts to combat growing technological job displacement and persistently high unemployment.

The apprenticeship committee —made up of one government, five management and five labor members — carries considerable weight. Its recommendations have led to federal equal employment policies and other important programs in job training in the past.

The committee said employers should be encouraged to undertake more job training by granting them a tax write-off at least as great as the 7 per cent they now get for certain capital expenditures designed to spur business investment.

But, the committee indicated, an even higher tax credit would be justified because of the risk involved in training a man for a job and then losing him to a competitor.

The committee said the government has made no large scale contribution to on-the-job training since Congress passed the GI Bill after World War II to train and educate war veterans.

The committee's unanimous recommendation urge tax credits on the salary and other costs of instructors, bookkeeping costs, training material, cost of time spent in class by apprentices during paid working hours and a certain percentage of the salary of foremen who work with trainees.

Berry, Beef And Orchard Units To Meet

Berry producers, beef growers and orchard operators of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties plan a series of meetings, Donald Myers, Columbiana County agricultural agent, announced at Lisbon.

Berry growers will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. at the Brooks Manfull farm for its annual twilight session. The farm is located 3½ miles south of Augusta in Carroll County.

Eldon Banta, horticulturist, and Blair Janson, plant pathologist, both of Ohio State University, will assist with the tour and in the speaking program to follow will discuss weed control and diseases.

The event is planned by the Columbiana - Mahoning berry growers committee, assisted by the co-operative Extension Service. The public may attend.

Orchard producers will meet June 11 at 6:30 p. m. at the Forrest Sitler orchard, three miles southeast of Salem.

A tour of the orchard and facilities and discussion of leaf analysis and crop outlook will be held.

Howard Wells of the Ohio Apple Institute and Garth Cahoon of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster will be on the program. All area tree fruit producers are urged to attend.

Beef producers will meet June 17 at 7 p.m. at the Wilbur Coy farm, near Salem.

James Warner, animal science specialist of Ohio State University, will attend and a judging session, tour and speaking program are planned.

Producers and junior beef producers are invited.

PRR Plans To Stop Commuter Service

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad plans to discontinue its Cleveland-Youngstown commuter service if the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) approves.

The railroad said Tuesday it is losing more than $150,000 a year on the service. The PUCO turned down the railroad's recent request for permission to cut losses by discontinuing Saturday and Sunday service to Youngstown.

Asks Status Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad has asked the Public Utilities Commission for authority to change the status of its station at Louisville, Stark County, from that of agency freight only to that of non-agency freight only. If approved, the Louisville station would be placed under jurisdiction of the agent at Minerva.

Ohio Will Name Miss America Choice July 24

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's representative to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City next September is to be selected at Cedar Point Friday, July 24.

Twenty-four girls from all sections of the state will participate in the Miss Ohio Pageant at the Lake Erie resort, the climax to local pageants being held in other Ohio cities.

The Sandusky Junior Chamber of Commerce is conducting the pageant.

For the first time in the history of the state event, Ohio State University will send its May Queen as an official contestant.

Eight of the 24 contestants have already been selected and the others are to be named before the end of June. Miss Peggy Emerson, of Akron, Miss Ohio of 1963, will preside over the four days of the program opening with a parade on Tuesday, July 21. Then the girls will compete in a three-day pageant in the ballroom of the Cedar Point resort in Sandusky. Preliminary nights of competition will be Wednesday and Thursday, July 22-23.

Ohio has three Miss America winners since the pageant began in 1922, the most recent being Jacquelyn Mayer of Sandusky, Miss America of 1963.

Summitville Driver Cited After Collision

A Summitville woman driver was cited Tuesday after her car rammed the rear of another on Route 644 near Millport.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car operated by Hilda Pearl Briceland, 36, struck the rear of one driven by Janet Lee May, 21, of Kensington R. D. 1 about 4:05 p. m.

The Kensington area woman had stopped to make a left turn, officers said. The Summitville driver was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Marching, Exercises Held By Fitness Club

Miss Carolyn Stowers and Mrs. Dorothy Ganas led marching, and Mrs. Jackie McVay led exercises at a meeting of the East Liverpool Women's Physical Fitness Club Monday night at the Eagles Hall.

The group will meet only on Mondays in June, July and August. There will be a wiener roast June 17 in Newell, and members are to meet at the hall for transportation.

Next meeting is Monday night, with a "weigh-in" for judging in the queen contest. Mrs. McVay is president.

2 In 4-H Slated To Attend Camp

LISBON — Two outstanding Columbiana County 4-H Club members will attend the 19th annual session of Ohio's Junior Leadership Camp June 15-20 at Camp Ohio near Utica in Licking County.

Robert E. Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H, said Miss Nancy Lowmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2, and Ronald Freer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Freer of East Palestine R. D. 1, will participate.

Throughout the week the club members, under the guidance of the co-operative Extension Service personnel and 14 college-age counselors, will take part in a variety of activities designed to develop their leadership abilities. Fred Bruny and Miss Beatrice Cleveland, both of the state 4-H staff, will serve as camp directors.

The general theme of the camp program will be "Let's Put More Living Into Life."

Five international farm youth exchangees will attend.

'Creed' Author To Speak

Junior Chamber Expects 200 For Inaugural Dance

Some 200 are expected to attend the inaugural ball of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday evening at The Willows at Industry.

C. William Brownfield of Hillard, past state president and author of the famed Jaycee Creed, will be guest speaker. Brownfield also will seat the new officers.

The event opens at 6:30 p.m. with a cocktail hour. The smorgasbord type dinner will be at 7:30 with dancing from 9:30 to 12:30.

The dinner also marks the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Junior Chamber movement in East Liverpool.

Another highlight will be the presentation of awards and the Patrick J. O'Farrell Trophy to the outstanding chairman of the year. This is made in honor of the late Pat O'Farrell by life members of the Jaycees.

Brownfield became active in the Jaycee movement in 1943 and served as state vice president in 1947-48. He was elected state president for the 1948-49 year and in 1949-50, he served as national vice president.

Brownfield is a life member of the Columbus Jaycees. He wrote the Jaycee Creed in 1946 and the following year it was adopted by the United States Jaycees and the Canadian Jaycees. In 1948 it was adopted unanimously by the World Congress of Jaycees at a meeting in Rio de Janeiro.

Since that time, the creed has become the central philosophy of the Jaycee movement.

Brownfield was made a Senator of Jaycee International for life at the Ohio convention at Cincinnati in 1954.

He is a realtor and a member of the Columbus, Ohio State and U.S. Real Estate Boards. He attended Mt. Union College and Ohio State University.

A member of the First Congregational Church, he is active in civic fund-raising drives in Columbus. During the last presidential election, he was the Ohio chairman of the Eisenhower - Nixon Committee for Young Men In Government.

He is married and has four sons.

W. Edward Adkins, a past president, will serve as toastmaster. Richard Chadwick, retiring president, will present his award.

The O'Farrell award will be announced by Ralph Finley, a past president and life member.

After the new officers are seated by Brownfield, Chadwick will present the gavel to Dale Kidd, new president.

James Riggs, past Ohio president and a life member, will introduce Brownfield. They are personal friends.

The benediction will be by Larry Walton, chaplain. Mrs. Gretchen Dawson will install Jaycee-ette officers.

Robert R. Lewis received the coveted O'Farrell award last year.

Special invitations have been mailed all charter members and past presidents.

The dinner committee is headed by Robert Garner and Jack Hales, co-chairmen, assisted by Adkins, Lewis, Chadwick, Kidd and Keith Goodman.

Garner is in charge of the installation phase and Hales, a life member, is in charge of the anniversary observance.

Sale Set For Late June

Allen Receives 2nd Term As Merchants' Chairman

Dayton Allen, operator of Allen's Shoe Store, 817 Washington St., has been elected to a second term as chairman of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Results of the annual election were announced Tuesday when the businessmen's group met in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Jack Steinberg of the Kiddie Korner store was returned as vice chairman, also for a second term. C. L. Peery of the Woolworth Co. was elected again as treasurer, but the group granted his request to be excused from serving because of the pressure of business and named in his stead James A. Locke, proprietor of the E. 5th St. jewelry store that bears his name.

E. R. Chandler is executive secretary of ELMA because of his post as executive manager of the Chamber.

In other business, the group received a report from G. W. Woods, chairman of the promotion committee, on a Vacation Value Days sale planned for late June — immediately prior to the July 4th holiday. Woods said details will be announced later.

Leslie Blumenthal and Harold Allison, co-chairmen, gave a final report on plans for ELMA's annual spring outing, scheduled this afternoon.

About 40 merchants will board a chartered bus at 3 p.m. at the Travelers Hotel to go to Pittsburgh to attend a night baseball game between the Pirates and the San Francisco Giants.

The first halt will be made at Greater Pittsburgh Airport for a tour of the Allegheny Airlines facilities. Dinner at the Park Schenley Restaurant will precede the ball game.

Following its annual custom, ELMA voted to dispense with regular meeting in July and August because of the summer vacation season. However, the Executive Committee will continue to function and general meetings will be called by the chairman, if necessary.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Pittsburgh Man Will Judge Midland K. Of C. Art Show

Midland Knights of Columbus Council 2005 said Nat Youngblood, head of the Pittsburgh Press art department, will be the judge for the eighth annual art exhibit June 23-July 8 in the new council rooms.

With over $200 scheduled in prizes, the screening committee for the show will consist of three district high school art instructors, Lawrence Novak, Midland High; Thomas Kozar, Western Beaver High, and Charles Saborin, Freedom Area High.

This year, several Midland area organizations and companies have committed themselves to purchase some of the art work.

The work named best in the show (Ben Kaye Memorial), will receive $35. The Midland Chamber of Commerce will give $25 to the best portrait, and the Italian Sons and Daughters of America Lodge will give $15 to the work selected as first in oil.

Anthony Martell will give $10 for the second choice in oils.

First place in water color will be awarded $15 by the G. C. Murphy Co. of Midland, while Ted Castelli will give $10 to the second place.

Joe Giambroni will give $15 for the first in still life, and Acon Pontiac of Midland, $10 for second.

Third and fourth place will receive honorable mention in each category.

In Division 2, (12-to-18 years-of-age), the best in the division will receive $15 and David D. Schwerha will give $10 to second.

Applications will be accepted up to and including June 16, and all work must be delivered to the council rooms at 832 Midland Ave. between June 12 and 16 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Co-chairmen are Martell, James Green and Joseph Jonas.

Man Seeks Probation On 2 Forgery Counts

LISBON — Frank J. Ferraro, 23, of Steubenville, appearing Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, pleaded guilty to two counts of forgery returned in indictments in 1959 and requested probation.

Ferraro and Christopher Karamanola, also of Steubenville, were indicted by the April 1959 Grand Jury. Karamanola, pleading guilty, was sentenced to 1-20 years at the Ohio Reformatory in Mansfield on each count.

Ferraro pleaded not guilty, but his case never came to court because he was sentenced in the meantime by Jefferson County Court on another charge. Authorities said he now is on parole from the prior sentence. Probation Officer Richard Rose is investigating Ferraro's request for probation.

Attacks By Negro Hoodlums

1,000 New York Police Assigned To Fight Crime

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 1,000 policemen soon will be patrolling New York City's streets and subways on an overtime basis in a campaign to halt attacks by Negro hoodlums on whites.

The additional patrols were ordered Tuesday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who said; "I am determined we are going to have law and order in this city of ours."

The order came two days after the Memorial Day weekend hooliganism on four subway trains and a Staten Island ferry. Bands of Negro teen-agers terrorized, robbed and beat whites.

Wagner also ordered all 20,000 patrolmen to wear their uniforms to and from work. Most travel by subway.

He ordered a speed-up in the installation of an experimental two-way radio network in subway trains. One Manhattan subway line is expected to get such a system in four to six months.

Wagner expressed concern over the anti-white rampages of Negro gangs, but he added: "There are other gangs in the city besides Negro and Puerto Rican; there are white gangs."

Civil rights leaders have deplored the attacks, but say frustration of Negroes in their search for adequate education, employment and housing is responsible.

Wagner met with police and Transit Authority officials for an hour and then announced that within two days 500 city patrolmen would be assigned to the streets and 200 transit police to the subways, both groups on overtime.

Each patrolman on the force will be required to work an extra eight-hour tour from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. every 20 days.

Calorie Quota Trimmed For Soft Americans

It's official. Calories have been cut by the nation's nutrition experts. The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences, the National Research Council has revised downward the daily calorie allowances for men and women. The reason for the calorie cut? Our soft living.

Ida Jean Kain

The calorie level recommended for the average man is now 2,900 calories a day, down 300 from the formerly recommended 3,200. For women the cut is 200 calories off the former 2,300 a day, making her daily calorie allowances 2,100. The reference woman in the study is 25 years old, weighs 128 pounds and is moderately active.

When the calorie intake balances energy output you neither gain nor lose weight.

—:—

HOWEVER, calorie counting is not enough, for this measure does not express qualitative values. That is, the term makes no distinction between calories which furnish fuel only and those which contribute essential nutrients.

Just as the yardstick as a measure gives no clue to the kind of "goods" in a yard of material, so calories do not evaluate food from the nutrient standpoint.

Even though machinery has taken the place of muscles and lessened calorie needs, your requirement for specific amounts of the essential nutrients has changed only slightly. With calories diminished, the emphasis must be on quality so as not to shortchange yourself nutritionally.

The question is not only how many calories are required normally, or for reducing purposes, but whether the essential nutrients are furnished in adequate amounts — amounts needed to keep you in a fine state of body repair.

Certain foods, aptly termed protective, are known to be superior sources of the nutrients essential to upkeep and renewal of body tissues. These protective foods which furnish their full share of vital nutrients are milk and cheese; lean meat, fish and fowl; fruits and juices, and green and yellow vegetables and whole grains.

—:—

TO CONTROL calories, the restriction must be in foods in which empty calories predominate. The term empty calories, nutritionally speaking, applies to foods which are lacking in protein, minerals and vitamins.

Sources of empty calories are cooking fats, sugar, alcohol and poor-quality baked goods. The present-day American way of eating is often excessive in calories, fats and empty calories.

All this is inherent in the new daily calorie allowances — the choice of quality calories instead of the empty calories.

Thousands On Strike Against Electric Firm

CINCINNATI (AP) — Several thousand greater Cincinnati workers remained out on strike today.

Local 1198 of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers voted Tuesday night to continue its strike at the Blue Ash assembly plant of the General Electric Co. The 380 union members walked out May 24 to protest the firing of a union official in a work rules dispute. About 1,400 Formica Corp employes also remained out on strike as did more than 1,000 members of building trades unions whose contracts expired last weekend.

Michigan Negotiations Collapse

Guardsmen Keep Peace In Bitter Labor Dispute

By The Associated Press

Nearly 1,000 Michigan National Guardsmen kept the peace today at Hillsdale, Mich., scene of the bitterest of a rash of labor disputes in the Midwest.

Negotiations at the Essex Wire Corp. collapsed Tuesday on the eve of the plant's reopening, authorized by Gov. George Romney after he had kept the plant closed for five days.

Guards and imported labor had kept the plant in partial operation during the strike.

Feelings were bitter in the city where strike violence has flared sporadically since the International Union of Electrical Workers pulled out its 180 production workers 96 days ago. The IUE was attempting to win its first contract at Essex. It had replaced the Teamsters Union as bargaining agent at Essex.

Hillsdale county's 35,000 residents were put under a curfew order. Two near riots have occurred at the plant and both strikers and workers have been injured. Romney arranged to station upward of 1,000 National Guardsmen in the city, four times the original number.

The union assailed Romney's reopening order as an attempt to influence the course of bargaining. The governor denied it.

Picketing violence also erupted in cities in Wisconsin and Indiana.

In West Allis, Wis., striking steelworkers and police fought at the Pressed Steel Tank Co. Two men were hurt. Five pickets were arrested.

Police Chief Louis Reinsch said the fighting broke out as police tried to escort newly hired Marquette University students into the struck plant.

The steelworkers walked out April 1 after rejecting the company's offer on a three-year contract.

Fist fights also broke out at the Evansville, Ind., International Steel plant. The plant, employing 350 production workers, has been struck for eight weeks by Teamsters Union Local 215.

A company spokesman said one woman suffered a slight concussion when she tried to push past pickets Tuesday. He said the plant would be closed today because the employes were afraid to cross picket lines.

Also in Indiana, 500 industrial workers went on strike Tuesday at the Dana Corp., an automotive parts manufacturer in Marion. The dispute was over job classifications.

Leaders of the United Auto Workers voted Tuesday to strike today against the big White Motor Co. plant in Cleveland, Ohio.

A wildcat strike over dismissal of four employes — two of them union stewards—occurred last week.

Cable Repair Returns Light For Freeway

The failure of 13 big lights along the south end of the West End Freeway and its ramps has been traced to an underground electric cable that apparently was nipped by an earth auger when a contractor installed guardrails along the stretch nearly two years ago, Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The lights will be back in service with replacement of a stretch of faulty cable that was discovered in a long investigation by Ohio Power Co. crews and Electrician Fred Kane, using a meter that helped detect short circuits, the director said. The source of the trouble finally was uncovered Tuesday.

Kane and street department employes are replacing the cable today. The faulty stretch runs from the Freeway proper along the first section of a curving ramp leading to the W. 8th St. "super road" stretch. Vodrey said the lights have been out of service for a month to six weeks.

A partial break in the underground cable indicated that the wire had been nipped by the earth auger that was used to drill holes for installation of the guard rails.

The theory is that the electric current arced across the opening for months, finally burning through the cable and putting the circuit out of service, he said.

But three lights still are out of service on an exit ramp that runs from the Freeway to take southbound traffic onto the "super road." Vodrey said the trouble still is being sought in that stretch. The three lights have been out of service since mid-February.

Vodrey explained that the city is responsible for the wiring in the Freeway lighting system, while Ohio Power handles other details of the maintenance such as replacement of bulbs.

'Unsafe Vehicle' Charge Dropped With Sale Of Car

Municipal Judge Samuel H. Chertoff today dismissed a case in which a 20-year-old East Liverpool man was accused of operating an unsafe vehicle after the defendant advised the court he has sold the old auto for $35.

Charles Eugene Davis, 1933 Dresden Ave., originally was before the court May 26 on the charge filed by the State Highway Patrol on May 23. It alleged his 1952 model car had two "bald" tires and the brakes were not operating properly. The court granted Davis a continuance to allow him to attempt to dispose of the car.

Davis returned to court today with proof he had sold the car. The judge imposed a fine of $10 and costs, but suspended the penalty on payment of costs.

Hearings are set for two drivers cited by the State Highway Patrol Tuesday night on charges of speeding in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. Jack Lee Womer, 37, of 528 1st Ave., is scheduled to appear Monday on a citation issued at 11:40, accusing him of driving 60.

Mansfield And Stennis Win Nomination Easily

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller swept toward a photo finish today in their race for California's 86 Republican presidential nominating delegates.

Almost lost in the dust of the Golden State race were primary elections in five other states Tuesday which saw, among other things, Goldwater pick up a handful of delegates in South Dakota but lose out in an attempted raid on Rockefeller's home base, New York.

There were these developments, too:

—Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, held a consistent, if narrow, lead in his drive for the Democratic senatorial nomination in California. Former film actor George Murphy won the nod on the GOP side.

—Two veteran congressman from New York—and probably a third from Alabama — were ousted by the voters.

—Two famous names from the Democratic side of the senate — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and John C. Stennis of Mississippi—won renomination easily.

South Dakota Republicans defeated a slate of 14 delegates pledged to Goldwater by a 2-1 margin. But the nominally uncommitted slate chosen contains at least six delegates favorable to Goldwater.

The nip-and-tuck California presidential primary almost overshadowed the race for the Democratic nomination to succeed ailing Sen. Clair Engle.

Salinger, who emphasized his ties with the late President John F. Kennedy, led State Controller Alan Cranston most of the night in a close race.

On the GOP side, Murphy, onetime state GOP chairman, defeated financier Leland M. Kaiser and Fred Hall, former governor of Kansas.

There were epebrow - raisers in some of the other elections.

Rep. Charles A. Buckley, a 30-year veteran in the House and chairman of the Public Works Committee, succumbed to the reform candidacy of Jonathan A. Bingham, a Yale man and former aide on the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Buckley, Democratic leader in the Bronx, had the support of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy while Bingham had backing from Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, among others.

One of Buckley's chief lieutenants, Rep. James C. Healey, also bit the dust in his bid for Democratic nomination to a fifth term. He was defeated by another reform candidate, James H. Scheuer.

In Alabama Rep. Carl Elliott, a House Rules Committee member bidding for a ninth term, appeared headed for defeat in that state's Democratic primary.

He was running last in a low-man-out field of nine district nominees, a situation created by the failure of the Alabama Legislature to redistrict the state after the 1960 census.

Elliott, target of opposition by a conservative coalition, trailed State Sen. John Tyson in the scramble for the eight berths as Democratic candidates in a statewide at - large election in November. Six other incumbents easily won nomination.

Mansfield coasted to victory in Montana's Democratic primary, defeating former Rep. Joseph P. Monaghan. Leading the race for the Republican Senate nomination was State Rep. Alex Blewett.

Joining Stennis in easily winning renomination in Mississippi's Democratic primary were the state's five incumbent House members. Negroes entered the race against Stennis and three of the House members, and were swamped.

Lt. Gov. Nils Boe defeated former Gov. Sigurd Anderson in South Dakota's Republican gubernatorial primary. Former Lt. Gov. John F. Lindley beat Merton B. Tice for the Democratic nomination without opposition.

Johnson Address Due Graduates Of Coast Guard

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—President Johnson addresses 78th graduating class of the Coast Guard Academy, the nation's smallest service school, today.

Only one other president has visited the campus by the Thames River. President Harry S. Truman paid a call in 1952.

Johnson will administer the oath of allegiance to the 109 graduates and hand each cadet his commission as a Coast Guard officer.

After the ceremony Johnson will drive to nearby Groton, where he will tour the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. There he will lay the keel of a nuclear submarine, the yet unnamed SSN650. The ceremony involves burning his initials into the keel with a welding torch.

The jail received 69 prisoners last month in addition to the 27 confined as of May 1. Sixty prisoners were released in May; four were conveyed to state institutions and one mental patient was taken to a state hospital. The jail had 115 visitors during the month.

The sheriff said 219 papers were served and 6,158 rdaio transmissions and 1,408 phone calls were handled at the jail. Fees of $1,055.18 were collected.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here's my suggestion to solve the problem of keeping the inside of sneakers clean:

Start all over again with new sneakers large enough to accommodate the foam rubber innersoles sold in most drug and dime stores. These innersoles can be slipped out and tossed in with a load of clothes in an automatic washer.

Buy two pair of innersoles so you have one pair to wear while the other dries. Trim the toe end with scissors for better fit if necessary. Innersoles are comfortable and most inexpensive.

DEAR HELOISE: When I made my slipcover for my davenport, I bought extra material and used double thickness on the arm where it gets the most use.

When the arm wore out I just cut the top layer off close to the welting. I had a whole new-looking slip cover in a matter of minutes.

No mending, no patched look.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Future Bleak When Teenagers Marry

June is always a big month for weddings and graduates in the United States. With so many girls marrying upon graduation from high school or often dropping out of school to marry earlier, it usually means the end of their formal education. It often also means the end of formal education for the young husband, and, consequently, his poor preparation for a livelihood.

Dr. Garry Myers

Of course, these young couples often figure that both of them will work. Yet neither of them may find a job. Besides, the wife may soon become pregnant, limiting further her opportunity to earn an income and increasing their financial burden.

—:—

WITH THE NUMBER of jobs scarce and constantly decreasing for those who have only a high school education or less, the economic future for many of these youthful couples is dismal. Some of them will have to go on relief or be supported by their families. Many of these parents don't have sufficient funds to do so, barely subsisting themselves.

Consider how this problem must be solved in the "War on Poverty."

Of those parents who could afford to support the unemployed young married couple, some would do it grudgingly and many would have to bring them under the parental roof. Think of the possible family tensions and conflicts then.

Besides, while this young couple had declared their independence in marrying so young, even against the advice or pleading of their parents, they have now become sadly dependent, forfeiting a lot of their hopes and dreams.

IF IT'S YOUR daughter, who, against your advice, has married unduly young, you will be wise — if you have the money— to send both these youngsters on to school and college, in case they are willing and able to do so. It should prove a good investment—even if you borrow the money. If you are able to send only one, you might decide it wise to send the husband. But many parents just could not do this, nor are there public programs for such help.

Furthermore, the facts reveal that the earlier the age of marriage, the less likely its permanence; and fatalities at childbirth for teenage wives far exceeds the rate for older women.

The solution to all this would be to induce the very young couples to delay marrying until they can complete their education and develop their potentials for future happiness and economic security.

However, in the face of current trends, such a proposal would not be taken seriously. Often aided and abetted by parents, boys and girls are dating and going steady at earlier and earlier ages. Naturally, they grow more eager to marry very early.

—:—

A BIGGER FACTOR enters the picture. Youngsters today pretty generally are being brought up right from infancy with excessive permissiveness. They have relatively little effective restraint. They tend to get what they want when they want it. Not having learned to wait to have their wishes gratified at 2, 8 or 12, their wishes and demands to have them gratified have multiplied. If at 15 or 18 they get the urge to marry, they marry.

Unless parents, especially those most influential in any community, restrain their children adequately in their earlier years in a family atmosphere of love, companionship, and understanding, early marriages and the problems growing out of them, will increase.

However, there are some parents who rear their children so to discipline themselves as to plan and direct their own lives wisely.

And here and there, there is evidence of some good effect of wise counseling in junior and senior high school.

Perhaps out of the "war against poverty" will come ways, through educational programs, to stem the tide against too early marriages.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "A Parent's Prayer," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, envelope to me in care of The Review.

Thursday morning, the choir will present two concerts at West Orange, N. J., Miss Arletta Helfrich, director, said, then will visit the United Nations headquarters in Lower Manhattan in the afternoon.

Calcutta Firemen Approve $400 Equipment Purchase

Purchase of $400 in new equipment was approved by Calcutta volunteer firemen at their meeting Monday night in the fire hall.

Dale Horger, president, was in charge and 13 attended. Volunteers were enlisted for operating a concession stand at the Odd Fellows carnival July 17-22 at the parking lot of the Thorofare Market in East End.

Firemen reported they have completed the job of filling the swimming pool at the United Presbyterian Church Camp on Beaver Creek. It took 12 hours of pumping water from Beaver Creek to fill the outdoor pool.

The fire truck was taken to Calcutta school last week for a demonstration for school children and teachers.

John Thompson was named chairman of ticket sales for the Beers & Barnes Circus performing in Calcutta the afternoon and evening of June 20. There will be 25 circus and animal acts at each show.

A report was also made on a fire call answered Saturday night at the trailer home of John Watson of Mount Acres Trailer Court near the Skyview Drive-in Theater. There was slight damage.

Firemen will attend two carnival parades this week, tonight at Negley and Friday at Lawrenceville.

Following business, Donald Dunn, assistant chief, presented instructions on operations of the pump of the new fire truck.

Civil Rights Seen As Topic At Governors' Conference

CLEVELAND (AP) — Civil rights is expected to be a major topic of discussion at the Governors' Conference, which opens here Saturday, but the governors are not likely to go on record with a statement on this controversial issue.

At the last two conferences in Hershey, Pa., and Miami Beach, Fla., southern governors balked at proposed resolutions in favor of civil rights legislation or any policy statements on civil rights.

Furthermore, the 1963 conference amended the articles of organization to abolish resolutions and the resolutions committee. Thus, bringing a resolution before the conference would require suspension of the articles of organization, which can be done only with a three-fourths vote.

With 11 southern and six border state governors in the conference, it would be difficult to muster the needed vote. A civil rights discussion is on the program for Tuesday morning.

Three men who have been tagged as possible Republican presidential nominees will be among the governors coming to the 56th annual conference. The three are Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, and George Romney of Michigan.

Also due to attend is Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who will be keynote speaker next month at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

The conference will hear Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday when general sessions begin. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will address a dinner meeting Monday night.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes says a dozen cabinet members will help him play host to the conference.

$29.9 Million Budget Slated For Cincy U.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The board of directors of the University of Cincinnati have approved a 1964-65 budget estimating operating expenses at $29,912,655.

While presenting his budget to the directors Tuesday, UC President Walter C. Langsam told them he estimated income during the academic year at $29,849,781. This would be 9 per cent more than the estimated actual income for the academic year ending August 31, 1964.

More than 1,750 patents were issued for washing machines in the 19th Century.

Laotian Troops Find U.S. Boots Too Big

BAN NA LONG, Laos (AP)—A company of right-wing troops in this desolate Laotian village has found American aid a trifle too expansive.

A supply of rubber-soled canvas combat boots arrived the other day as part of U.S. assistance to the litlte kingdom's anti-Communist forces.

Only one man, the biggest in the company, found a pair he could use. The boots ranged in size from 10 to 12F. The average Laotian soldier wears a 5 or 6.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CATS

QUESTION: Why can't a cat roar like a lion?

ANSWER: Next to the roaring lion, our artist has drawn a double bass, the largest and deepest-voiced instrument in the violin family. The strings of the double bass, vibrating in its large body, produce the deep tone, and in a similar way, the lion's large vocal chords, (shown to left of double bass) vibrating in his large body, produce the deep-throated roar. By comparison, the cat's little vocal chords vibrate with a higher-pitched sound, more like that of the small violin. To roar like a lion, a cat would have to lug around a huge sound-making apparatus which would be out of proportion to his size.

Did you ever wonder why lions roar? These animals are fond of hunting at night, often besides some waterhole where game animals come to drink. When such an animal appears, a lion will let out his terrifying roar. It is a sound which seems to come from all directions and is very apt to confuse the game animal, who hesitates, wondering which way to run. Before he has decided, the lion is upon him.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: A violin is an example of a string instrument which produces sounds by vibrating chords. The other types of instruments are wind and percussion. See if you can find out how they produce sound.

★ ★ ★

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

This Mary Is Nervously Contrary

It will take more than winning an Emmy to fill Mary Tyler Moore with confidence.

"I'm already worrying about next year," she confessed only a few days after making the long walk to the stage at Hollywood's Palladium.

Hal Humphrey

She wasn't even sure how to get there to pick up her Emmy award, after getting over the shock of hearing her name called out.

"I didn't even listen to the advance instructions they gave us, because I was in the powder room.

—:—

"IT WAS LIKE musical chairs at our table. When one got back from pacing the foyer, somebody else jumped up and left," Mary recalled, still in somewhat of a shock state.

Before the fateful evening arrived, she considered not attending at all.

"I don't want to go through this any more," Mary told husband Grant Tinker, a program executive at NBC. But then her mother jumped into the breach, telling Mary she was the best actress on all television and naturally had to win for that reason.

As the evening progressed and four Emmy awards were given the Dick Van Dyke show (including one to Dick for best actor in a series), Mary saw any glimmer of a chance to win disappearing down the drain.

-:-

"I COULDN'T MOVE at first, when I heard my name. And let me tell you that walking down the bridal aisle is not nearly so long as this trip was.

"All the way up there in those long chiffon panels on my gown, I kept saying to myself, 'Oh, Lord, don't let me trip!' Did you see those pictures of me in the papers? My mouth was open all the time. I looked like an idiot," she reported.

In spite of belonging to the CBS-TV "family" in which President James Aubrey had enjoined the members to ignore Emmy awards, the five Dick Van Dyke show winners clutched their statuettes as possessively as children with wonderful verboten loot.

"If Mr. Aubrey asked me to return mine, I would point it at him, wings first," she said, shoving her hand forward as if holding a bayonet.

-:-

THE USUALLY running-scared Mary Tyler Moore currently finds herself in a squabble with another member of the CBS-TV family, Ed Sullivan.

A few weeks ago she was in New York to appear live on one Sullivan show and tape another for later airing. She says it had been agreed to pre-record one of her song numbers, but Ed's son-in-law and show producer, Bob Precht, said no such agreement had been made.

'Ed likes to see the element of risk on his show. If it's a high-wire act with a little old lady, you may see her die. Don't forget it was Ed who had Floyd Patterson jumping rope and singing 'I Love You Truly' at the same time, so that gives you an idea," emphasized Mary.

-:-

ANYWAY, she saw no reason to satisfy Ed's or his son-in-law's passion for the precarious, so she walked out on the show. The American Federation of TV-Radio Artists will hold an arbitration to determine how much, if any, of the $15,000 she should receive for the two shows she didn't do.

Mary does guest shots only when she can fit them into her regular Dick Van Dyke show schedule.

"I don't want to be written out of any of the Van Dyke shows — because I'm afraid the audience might learn to like it that way."

Show business is a nervous business.

Wellsville's Officials To Open Bids Friday

The Wellsville Board of Control will open bids Friday at 11 a.m. on a new police cruiser and for gasoline, coal, lime and alum.

The gasoline is for the city vehicles while the chemicals are used at the filtration plant.

Stamp Collector Learns City Still Cape Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Many a stamp collector is learning that, while the missile center was renamed Cape Kennedy, the city still is Cape Canaveral.

Stamp collectors have deluged Postmaster Lyle Meadows and his four clerks with "first day covers." These are decorated envelopes, bearing the new John F. Kennedy stamp, which collectors send in to be mailed back with the postmark they want as a souvenir.

The collectors wanted a Cape Kennedy postmark on the new stamps honoring the late president, but such a postmark does not exist.

The City Council rejected a suggestion that the community's name be changed to conform with the cape's name change.

Camp Fire Group Picks Chairmen

Several chairmen were named at the meeting of the East Liverpool Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., Monday night at the Little House in Dixonville.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, appointed Mrs. Carol Walton, training; Mrs. Frank C. Dawson, program; Mrs. David Beatty, adult membership; Mrs. Arthur Eddy, group organization, and William Gaston, finance.

Paul Herman was elected treasurer due to the resignation of Richard Emmerling.

Registration is open for camping of Bluebird, Junior Hi and Camp Fire Girl groups July 6-31 at Echo Dell Camp.

Next session is July 27 at the Little House.

Delightful fruit compote: slices of fresh pineapple topped with fresh orange sections and slivers of candied or syrup-preserved ginger. If you use the candied ginger, rinse in hot water to remove sugar coating before slivering.

City Income Tax Nets $86 Million In Ohio For 1963

Eighty-three Ohio communities raised $86,688,628 through municipal income taxes during 1963, according to a compilation issued today at Columbus by Auditor Roger W. Tracy.

Tracy said 62 cities and 21 villages now levy income taxes. The 1963 revenue represented a gain of 19.2 per cent, or $14,001,350, from the total the taxes cleared in 1962, he said. Akron, Ashtabula and Loveland joined the ranks of Ohio communities collecting an income tax. Seven villages also imposed the tax for the first time.

East Liverpool's total income tax revenue for 1963 was listed at $281,672, against $209,781 in 1962 and $123,114 in 1961. Salem's income tax revenue was $210,278 in 1963, with $196,752 in 1962 and $130,856 in 1961.

At Steubenville, the income tax produced $533,048 last year. The 1962 revenue was $264,336. The tax was not in effect in 1961.

Cincinnati led the rest of Ohio communities with 1963 collections of over $15 million.
